U. S. Troops Now Two Miles from St. Lo

ADVANCE MADE BY AMERICANS IN NEW DRIVE

Yanks Launch Furious New Sieges on 40-Mile Front in Normandy.

By The Associated Press

SUPREME HEADQUARTERS ALLIED EXPEDITIONARY FORCE, July 11—U. S. troops and tanks pounded today to a point within two miles of St. Lo, key road hub forming the German central fortress in Normandy, gaining two to three miles in furious new offensive spreading the American attack over a 40-mile front.

Spearheads of Lt.-Gen. Omar N. Bradley's American First army, jumping off under the screen of a softening artillery barrage, reached the outskirts of Luzerne and Mesnil-Roxelin, just north of the road junction in the heart of Normandy.

The attack was coordinated from the north and northeast of St. Lo. Fall of that city of 15,000 would force a German withdrawal from the remainder of the Cherbourg peninsula, and Nazi lines were under steady, heavy pressure along a front curving 40 miles to the sea.

The attack opened after hundreds of field guns bellowed steadily for hours, wrecking German hedgehog positions and numbing the nerves of even some of the most fanatical Nazis holding the line.

Clean Out Nazi Nests

British-Canadian forces to the east meanwhile cleaned out nests of resistance southwest of Caen, running into stiffening opposition.

Other Doughboys advanced one to two miles elsewhere on the front winding across Cherbourg peninsula, making flank penetrations threatening to force a German withdrawal southward along the peninsula's west coast.

The German radio asserted that German troops had reentered La Haye Du Puits, strategic road center captured by the American First army Sunday).

Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery, allied ground commander in France, declared 54,000 persons have been taken since D-day, and told his American-British-Canadian forces that much has been achieved" with definite and concrete gains.

"We are firm and secure," he asserted.

Bad weather and strengthening German resistance slowed the British Second army assault in the Caen sector, and heavy fighting flamed south of the Odon and Orne rivers. The Germans forced the British to withdraw to the north of Maltot, a town four miles southwest of Caen.

A heavy price still was being exacted of the enemy, and a British headquarters officer estimated 30 to 35 Nazi tanks had been knocked out on the front southwest of Caen.

The German position west of the Orne appeared hopeless in the long run, but the fanatical Nazi opposition against the drive of the British and the Canadians was forcing the fighting to pause temporarily in some parts and limiting progress to a few hundred yards in others.

Red Advance Threatens To Trap 2 Nazi Armies

Russians Move Swiftly on East Prussian Border and Baltic Coast; New Drive Starts in Romania.

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 11—Russian troops streaming deep into Lithuania thrust within striking distance today of the East Prussian frontier and moved swiftly toward the Baltic coast in wide enveloping advances which threatened to trap two German armies in the north.

Southward in old Poland, other army groups beat toward the rail center of Bialystok and directly menaced Pinsk. The Germans reported a massive new Soviet offensive in Romania north of the rail center of Iasi—a drive threatening the Galati gap and the Ploesti oil fields, already extensively ruined by American bombs.

The Moscow communique said the Germans suffered "tremendous losses" in a general Russian forward surge all the way from the Latvian border to the middle of the Pripyat marshes, some 400 miles southward.

A powerful wedge was driven into Lithuania at about the midway point of the 100-mile battlefront between Daugavpils, in southeastern Latvia, and the bypassed and doomed German stronghold of Wilno—scene now of bloody street fighting.

Advancing not less than 28 miles yesterday, Col. Gen. Ivan C. Bagramian's Baltic troops cut the highway between Daugavpils and the Lithuanian city of Kaunas in a drive within 120 miles of the Baltic port of Riga, capital of Latvia.

Bagramian's forces also penetrated to within 20 miles of Daugavpils in a frontal assault.

Overrun Rail Junction

Ten miles westward from Wilno, rampaging Soviet soldiers overran the rail junction of Landwarow on the route to Kaunas—an advance that supported British press dispatches that Red army vanguards were within 60 miles of East Prussia. The Swedish newspaper Morgon Tidningen reported the Germans were emptying East Prussia of civilians.

Premier Stalin announced in an order of the day that the first White Russian army of Marshal Konstantin K. Rokossovsky, pounding westward on the southern sector of the front, had occupied Luminiec, 30 miles east of Pinsk on the rail route to Brest-Litovsk and Warsaw, and Slonim, 28 miles west of Baranowicze on the railway to the Polish communications hub of Bialystok, now only 85 miles beyond.

Other columns striking north through the Pripyat marshes moved within nine miles of Pinsk.

The fall of Luminiec and the pressure of a companion column driving from the Pripyat marshes on the south was rapidly making the German position in Pinsk untenable.

Nearly 500 places fell in yesterday's westward surges. Utena formed the advance peak of the wedge thrust into Lithuania. Here the Russians stood within 175 miles of the Baltic seaport of Memel.

A Reuters dispatch from Moscow said Soviet forces in the vicinity of Daugavpils had crossed into Latvia.

Bagramian's forces were fighting forward around three lakes—

SOLDIER FROM MARION KILLED

Pfc. William Zieg Dies of Wounds Sustained in Battle on New Guinea.

In a telegram from the war department received this morning, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Zieg of 471 East Center street were notified that their son Pfc. William Zieg, 22, had died from wounds sustained in battle in New Guinea, June 26. The telegram, signed by Adjutant General Ulio, gave no details but stated that a letter would follow.

Pfc. Zieg entered service in August, 1942 at Ft. Benjamin Harrison and later trained at Ft. Leonard Wood in Missouri.

He left for overseas in July of 1943 and for two months was stationed in Hawaii. Since then he had been in New Guinea. The family last heard from him when they received Mother's day greetings, a week following Mother's day of this year.

Pfc. Zieg attended Harding High school. Prior to entering the service he was employed at the Erie railroad in the construction crew. He was a member of the First Evangelical and Reformed church.

Surviving with the parents are three sisters: Mrs. Paul Simpson of Kansas City, Mo., Mrs. John Rinnert of 778 East Center street, and Mrs. Harold Sult of 957 East Church street.

U. S. NAVY AIMS NEW ATTACK AT GUAM, ROTA

Islands 150 Miles from Saipan Struck by Planes and Warships.

By The Associated Press

U. S. PACIFIC FLEET HEADQUARTERS, PEARL HARBOR, July 11—American ships and planes struck fresh blows at Guam and Rota over the weekend, bringing complete neutralization of the Marianas—or perhaps, new invasion operations—a step nearer, today.

Guam and Rota are less than 150 miles south of Saipan, which has been captured by American Marines and soldiers.

Light cruisers and destroyers shelled Guam Saturday for the second time since Japan took the island Dec. 11, 1941. Guam first was shelled June 15, while the Saipan landings were in progress.

A Pearl Harbor communique said the Saturday shelling damaged Japanese defense positions, buildings and small craft along the beaches.

Planes of a fast carrier task group, braving heavy antiaircraft fire, attacked both Guam and Rota Sunday with bombs, rockets and machinegun fire. One carrier plane was lost, but a destroyer rescued the crew.

Hunt Saipan Snipers

The Americans who sliced neatly through the Marianas by taking Saipan hunted down the few remaining Japanese snipers and stragglers at large on that island. Enemy civilians also were trickling in to surrender.

Meanwhile, Liberators from central and southwest Pacific bases collaborated upon attacks upon the principal Japanese bases in the Carolines—at Truk, Palau, Yap and Woleai.

Enemy planes took off from Truk and Palau to avoid destruction on the ground. Only at Yap was there interception, but three of the 13 enemy planes probably were shot down.

Liberators of the Far East air force dropped 43 tons of bombs upon Sorong, last important Japanese base in Dutch New Guinea. Other Allied planes hit targets from the bypassed Marshall islands to the southwesternmost borders of the New Guinea sector.

Four Allied planes were lost in the southwest Pacific raids to enemy antiaircraft.

Japs Bomb Noemfoor

Six Japanese planes bombed Noemfoor island in Geelvink bay, off Dutch New Guinea, causing no casualties but setting an American fuel dump on fire.

In the sarmi-Maffin bay area of Dutch New Guinea, 282 more Japanese were killed in skirmishes.

Some 250 miles eastward, down the British New Guinea coast, there were indications that Japs trapped since last April in the Wewak area were fathering their waning strength for an attempt to push westward. It was believed they might attempt to el-

2,000 Planes Hit Targets Near Munich

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 11 — A sky-blackening fleet of 2,000 American planes, 1,100 of them heavy bombers, attacked targets around Munich in south Germany today after British Mosquitos before dawn bombed Berlin.

The targets were not immediately identified. Weather was foul, forcing Fortresses and Liberators to cast their high explosive loads by instrument through cloud layers.

The Munich attack was the second massed American blow at the reich in five days. Last Friday, a star-spangled armada bombed oil refineries and airplane plants around Leipzig, destroying 114 German planes at a price of 36 bombers and six fighters.

The Germans told of sky battles over Munich itself, southern German shrine city of the Nazi party. Intense flak was declared thrown up at the attackers. Munich (pop: 828,325) is a railway center for traffic into Italy and France and a frequent Allied target. It is Germany's fourth city, the capital of Bavaria and 25 miles north of the foothills of the Alps.

While one group of Mosquitos gave Berlin burghers another sleepless night, other formations of this "night cavalry of the air" coursed over northeast France harassing German troop bivouacs and transport. Berlin said Mannheim, near the reich's western border, was one of the industrial targets. One Mosquito was lost.

The reported day light attacks on Germany today were the first in four days.

The Mosquito penetrations into France were concentrated in the Amiens-Lille-St. Quentin-Laon-Compiegne area, extending northeast of Paris to the Belgian border. Bridges over the Seine, being employed by the Germans to rush forces to the battlefront 50 miles to the west, were attacked once more.

In one of the few operations in yesterday's murky weather, rocket-firing typhoons, bomb-carrying Spitfires and RAF Mustangs poured explosives and fire into German troops driven into the woods southeast of Caen by the British-Canadian capture of that city.

Despite the adverse conditions fighter-bombers ran up more than 300 individual flights by last evening. American fighter-bombers dive-bombed German gun positions and strong points southeast and southwest of Lessay and east of St. Lo.

MARION WATER SUPPLY AMPLE

Check Shows Situation OK but People Are Warned Against Waste.

With increasing reports that many other areas are suffering from water shortages, a check of the Marion water supply reveals that the city's water supply is safe and adequate for present needs, according to L. Otis Porter, manager of the Marion Water Co. Mr. Porter said a check on wells had been made within the last three days and that the supply is holding up well.

"There is enough water for all purposes," Mr. Porter said. He added, however, that water should not be wasted, since pumping facilities must be made available to Marion industries and for fire fighting as well as for taking water to homes.

Mr. Porter explained that when prolonged dry spells occur, the level of the water table is checked. If the level of water in lower rock strata drops there is definite need to cut water consumption, he said. Checks so far reveal that the water table level here has remained fairly constant. No fear was expressed for Marion's water supply in the future.

A marked increase has been made in water consumption within the last several weeks, as checks of draw-down show. Pumping facilities have been working harder to get water to all users. Mr. Porter said that pressure must be kept at a level

REV. S. S. HARDY TO END PASTORATE HERE

Resigns To Become Rector of Medina, O., Church.

At a meeting of the Vestry of St. Paul's Episcopal church last night Rev. S. S. Hardy, rector of the church here almost 18 years, submitted his resignation to wardens and vestrymen of the church to become effective September 9.

He will go to St. Paul's Episcopal church at Medina, O.

His length of pastorate here is a record for a single rectorship of the Marion parish, the next longest being that of Rev. J. Ernest Julian, who was here almost 12 years. Other pastorates ranged in length from three to six and a half years.

A native of London, Ont., Canada, Rev. Hardy served as curate and rector of parishes in Canada before becoming rector here May 1, 1927. Mrs. Hardy and two daughters are also natives of Canada.

The family moved here from Goderich, Ont. They transferred their citizenship to this country in 1936.

PRESIDENT WILLING TO ACCEPT FOURTH TERM IF ELECTED

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 11—President Roosevelt declared today he will "reluctantly, but as a good soldier" accept renomination by the Democratic national convention and serve another four years in the White House if elected.

In a letter to Democratic Chairman Robert E. Hannegan, Mr. Roosevelt said he personally wanted to retire and avoid public responsibilities and the publicity that "follows every step" of the President.

"But if the people command me to continue in this office and in this war," he added, "I have as little right to withdraw as the soldier has to leave his post in the line."

The President's letter was made public at a White House news conference which grew tense with expectancy when Mr. Roosevelt told 99 reporters gathered in his oval office that the doors had been locked. A reporter said that must mean something important was coming.

Another reporter raised the familiar fourth-term question and, grinning, Mr. Roosevelt disclosed that this time the big news was coming.

He then read his exchange of letters with Hannegan. Hannegan wrote the President in a letter dated July 10 that enough delegates to the party convention starting a week from tomorrow are committed to his renomination to assure it.

"If the convention should carry this out, and nominate me for the presidency, I shall accept," Mr. Roosevelt wrote Hannegan. "If the people elect me, I will serve."

The President sprang the news of his political intentions on a news conference this morning when a reporter asked him if he had anything to say about the convention.

Grinning, the President replied that the reporter was only guessing—and said this time he was right.

Getting quickly to the correspondence before him the President read Hannegan's letter saying renomination is assured and replied:

"If the convention should carry this out, and nominate me for the presidency, I shall accept. If the people elect me, I will serve."

The President said, however, that he would not "run" for reelection in the accepted political sense "but if the people command me to continue in this office and in this war, I have as little right to withdraw as the soldier has to leave his post in the line."

With that statement the President was referring to his war-time role of commander-in-chief of the armed forces.

Prefers To Step Out

"For myself, I do not want to run," Mr. Roosevelt said. "By next spring I shall have been President and commander-in-chief of the armed forces for 12 years—three times elected by the people of this country under the American constitutional system.

"From the personal point of view, I believe that our economic system is on a sounder, more human basis than it was at the time of my first inauguration * * *.

"After many years of public service, therefore, my personal thoughts have turned to the day when I could return to civil life. All that is within me cries out to go back to my home on the Hudson river, to avoid public responsibilities, and to avoid also the publicity which in our democracy follows every step of the nation's Chief Executive."

That would be his desire, Mr. Roosevelt said, but he assured Hannegan he would forego if the convention drafted him and the people elected him for another term.

Mr. Roosevelt made no mention of the second place on the ticket and the status of Vice President Wallace remained unclarified.

Wallace told reporters last night after a two-hour conference with the President, that their conversation dealt solely with China, from where the vice president has just returned.

A reporter asked if "you mean that the 1944 political situation was not mentioned?"

"That is right," Wallace replied.

Asked About Wallace

As he completed reading his correspondence today a reporter asked Mr. Roosevelt what he could say about yesterday's conference with Wallace.

Oh, the President said, they had just talked about China.

Smiling, he told the reporters how to get out of his office and a scramble started toward the doors.

Mr. Roosevelt, wearing a white shirt with a black bow tie and seersucker trousers, held his Hannegan correspondence on his desk before him as he read. He went through the sentences in slow deliberate words but once interrupted himself with a grin to say he had to have a cigaret—and observed it was too bad he didn't have a Murad, obviously referring to that cigaret's advertising slogan of nonchalance.

Mr. Roosevelt stated in his letter to Hannegan that winning the war is the number one objective of this nation. Close behind it, he said, is determination for a victory that future world wars will be impossible. Third and final goal, he said, is to provide jobs and a decent standard of living for returning war veterans.

In his letter to Mr. Roosevelt, Hannegan said:

"I desire to report to you that more than a clear majority of the delegates to the national convention are legally bound by the action of their constituents to cast their ballots for your nomination as President of the United States. This action in the several states is a reflection of the wishes of the vast majority of the American people that you continue as President in this crucial period in the nation's history.

"I feel, therefore, Mr. President, that it is my duty as chairman of the Democratic national committee to report to you the fact that the national convention will during its deliberations in Chicago tender to you the nomination of the party as it is the solemn belief of the rank and file of Democrats, as well as many other Americans that the nation and the world need the continuation of your leadership."

The President's carefully worded reply to Hannegan broke a

ALLIES TAKE 54,000 GERMANS PRISONER

By The Associated Press

LONDON, July 11—The allied forces have captured 54,000 prisoners and "much has been achieved" in fierce fighting since the invasion of Europe, Gen. Sir Bernard L. Montgomery told his troops in Normandy in a broadcast today.

"Our gains have been definite and concrete," the general said. "The allied armies in Normandy have good ground for solid satisfaction.

"We have taken 54,000 prisoners. We have given the Germans a tremendous pounding. We are firm and secure."

Montgomery, allied ground commander, added:

"Well done! Well done, indeed!"

FOUR-YEAR-OLD BOY IS BITTEN BY DOG

Owner Gets Suspended Fine for Failure To Have License.

Six stitches were required to close a wound on the right ear and cheek of Phillip Sheridan Knapp, 4-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Knapp of near Marion, suffered yesterday morning when the child was bitten by a dog owned by W. T. Hobson of near Marion.

Dr. N. Sifritt, county health commissioner, reported that the child was bitten while playing at the Hobson farm, located just across the road from his home, about six miles northeast of Marion. Apparently the boy came too close to the dog while no one was watching. He was brought to Marion where he was treated by a local physician and given tetanus shots.

Mr. Hobson was arrested by Elmer Ullom and charged with harboring an unlicensed dog. He pleaded guilty in court this morning and was fined $15 and costs. Judge W. Dexter Hazen suspended the fine.

THREE DAGGERS AIMED AT GERMANY'S HEART

WITH THE FIRM-ESTABLISHMENT of Allied armies in France, the third in a trio of daggers is pointed at Berlin, and the doom of Nazidom is well under way. The approximate distance these armies, and the Red Army, will have to travel to reach the German capital is shown on the map. In the inset, the black line indicates the air path recently covered by a fleet of U. S. Flying Fortresses and long-range fighter planes in the first 7,000-mile shuttle mission. Taking off in England, the giant bombers struck at Ruhland, Germany, and landed in Russia. After reloading, the planes went aloft again, blasted Drogobych, Poland and landed at bases in Italy. From Italy, they flew to drop their bombs on rail yards at Beziers, near Marseilles in southern France, and then went on to their home bases in England. Three fighters were lost; all the bombers came through safely. The flight demonstrated the extent of range of American bombers and proved conclusively that all targets in Germany or Nazi-occupied territory can now be reached.— (International.)

Voters Start Registration

Board of Elections Is Also Ready for Service Vote Applicants.

Registrations are now being accepted at the Marion county board of elections office and residents here are reminded that Oct. 9 will be the last date that registrations will be accepted before the November election.

Supplies for the soldiers' ballots have also been received, Mrs. Cora McKeever, clerk, announced today and relatives of men and women in the armed forces are requested to call at the office for an application blank as soon as possible to avoid a last minute rush.

For the election here, all who have never voted and those who haven't voted during the last two years must register to be eligible for the fall voting. Residents who have moved from one precinct to another must transfer their registration to the precinct where they are now living.

Ninety days are allowed for the return of ballots from service personnel. Any relative of a member of the armed forces may fill the application form which gives the complete address of the person designated to receive the ballot.

Ballots will be mailed from the board starting Aug. 9 and the ballots rate a priority over all mail with the exception of war department communications.

All service ballots are printed in red ink so they can be easily distinguished from other mail. Approximately 300 service names are now on record at the county board of elections office, and according to records over 4,000 Marion county men and women are in service.

With the ballot to be mailed to service members goes an instruction sheet and an identification envelop with a number of questions printed on the face, concerning the length of service, residence, birth date, etc. All are to be enclosed in a return envelope bearing the local address of the election board. Printing on the envelopes and the instruction sheets are also in red ink. The final date for all ballots to be returned is noon of election day.

And, this doesn't include transportation of the 134 officers and men in the battery, and their supplies.

As thousands of these big guns roll up to the front to blast enemy positions, the job of Erie and other American Railroads becomes bigger and bigger.

For it is the immediate responsibility of your railroads to keep not only these guns and supplies, but hundreds of thousands of other items, rolling from the production lines to the battle lines.

With the continued help of the public, shippers, and government agencies, your railroads will keep the vital war loads rolling on to hasten the day of victory.

civilian and commercial flying along with maintenance of a large military air force after the war, were placed before the committee by numerous officials of the aircraft industry.

Civilian aircraft production should be started "at the earliest possible moment which will not interfere with military needs," the aeronautical Chamber of Commerce recommended.

As a spur to civilian flying the chamber proposed that military aircraft, of no commercial use, be turned over to colleges and other schools after the war. This would serve to maintain an endless stream of flying talent as a safeguard against future wars, it added.

The chamber's views were given to the senate military affairs subcommittee on war contracts by E. E. Wilson, its chairman, and other industry witnesses.

The Chamber recommended that each company operating a government aircraft factory be given opportunity to buy or lease the factory "at reasonable terms" after the war.

"Under no circumstances," spokesmen for the organization testified, "should the plants be operated by the government."

The chamber said policies regarding disposal of the many thousands of surplus government air craft should be determined by one central government agency "to be created by legislative action," and that "wherever practicable, sales should be made through the manufacturers who originated the design."

Among other points made by the witnesses:

1. The United States must have a large airforce, train youths to fly, maintain strategic air bases, encourage air transport and personal flying, and have a strong aircraft manufacturing industry with an alert research and development program.

2. With estimated production in 1944 at $21,300,000,000 and 2,100,000 employes, the industry is a major part of the national economy and the nation's number one industrial demobilization problem.

Marion Soldier Gets Promotion to Major

SPANGLER CONFERS WITH GOV. DEWEY

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., July 11 — Harrison E. Spangler, former chairman of the Republican national committee, after conferring yesterday with Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, declared the Republican party is "more united than it has been in years."

Spangler, now counsel to the Republican national committee, said he discussed organization matters with the party's presidential nominee, adding:

"I gave him the situation as I see it in the various states in a general way."

Spangler declined to make any prediction on the outcome of the election, asserting "I'm not a prognosticator." He described as "somewhat indicative" an independent poll released today which reported Dewey as having a four per cent edge over President Roosevelt in New York state.

Spangler, accompanied by James S. Kemper of Chicago, talked with Dewey at the executive mansion. Later today the governor was to see Publisher Frank Gannett.

Clarence Brown Confers with Brownell

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 11—Herbert Brownell, Republican national chairman, said yesterday he had been told by Representative Clarence Brown of Ohio that "there was no doubt the Dewey-Bricker ticket will carry Ohio."

Brown, who was floor manager for Governor John W. Bricker at the Chicago convention where Bricker was a candidate for the Republican presidential nomination, conferred with Brownell for nearly three hours late Saturday.

Brownell said they discussed campaign plans and the setting up of middle-western headquarters in Chicago. He also said that Brown offered to spend considerable time in behalf of Governor Thomas E. Dewey, the presidential nominee, and Governor Bricker, his running mate for vice president.

FIT TO BE TIED

SALT LAKE CITY — Charles Parke doesn't quite know what to do with his dog. He heard that all dogs would be disposed of if found on the loose because of Salt Lake's current anti-rabies drive. So Parke tied up the dog. The dog didn't like being tied up and Parke was fined $2 "for having a barking dog."

Commodity Credit Corporation has announced an increase in the loan price of wheat from $1.43 to $1.50 per bushel for No. 1 wheat. Any person, partnership, association, or corporation producing wheat in 1944, as landowner, landlord or tenant is eligible. Wheat of acceptable quality of any class grading No. 5 or better and containing not more than 14 per cent moisture will be eligible for loan. Loans will be made on farm stored wheat or from an approved warehouse accompanied by a warehouse receipts. A farm storage allowance of seven cents per bushel shall be advanced at the time the loan is made, on the net number of bushels placed under loan, and will be earned by the producer if the wheat is delivered to Commodity Credit Corporation in liquidation of the loan after April 30, 1945. Notes securing wheat loans shall mature on demand, but not later than April 30, 1945. All loans will bear interest at the rate of three per cent per annum. Information will be given and applications taken by the Marion County AAA, 220 East Church street.

DEMOCRATIC PICNIC

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 11—State Democratic headquarters announced today that all candidates for major offices would attend a Licking county party picnic at Newark Thursday night. A. Lee Fair of Millersburg, nominee for secretary of state, will be master of ceremonies.

Arlington National Cemetery provides burial space for service men and women who die on active duty or are honorably discharged.

AXIS PLANNED BLOW AT PANAMA CANAL

By The Associated Press

YELLOW SPRINGS, O., July 11—The axis viewed the Caribbean islands as "likely stepping stones to cripple the Panama canal," Burns Weston, former Caribbean representative of the U. S. department of state, asserted today.

In an address prepared for the Antioch college Institute on Conditions for Enduring Peace, he said:

"The axis was not unaware that an area that has been exploited for 450 years is bound to have unspeakable slums, poor health, malnutrition, desperately low wages, most inadequate educational opportunity and lack of family life. * * *"

Weston, executive director of the postwar planning commission of greater Cleveland, said unemployment already is a serious problem in the West Indies.

Norman Thomas, Socialist party candidate for president, told the institute last night a "blind return" to capitalism would lead to American fascism.

If Democracy cannot plan an economy which will conquer unemployment, he said, then the alternative will be "state collectivism."

Ceiling Prices Put on Sweet Potatoes

WASHINGTON, July 11—The office of price administration today imposed price ceiling on 1944-crop sweet potatoes intended to result in a national average retail price of about 10 cents a pound, somewhat lower than last year.

The regulation provides ceilings, effective July 15, designed to reflect an average farm price of $1.69 a bushel, as required by the office of economic stabilization."

The wholesale mark-up is 55 cents a bushel, and retail prices are governed by a fixed percentage mark-up over the wholesale price.

CLEVELAND WATER SHORTAGE SERIOUS

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 11 — As Cleveland's drought entered its 180th day, Mayor Frank J. Lausche called a meeting of city and Cuyahoga county officials in an effort to stop all greater Cleveland householders from sprinkling.

The mayor said he would urge the group to declare an emergency, see that one warning was given and if sprinkling continued the water would be shut off at the house meter.

A spokesman for the Fisher aircraft plant near Cleveland airport, which manufactures major assemblies for B-29 Superfortresses and complete new-type fighter planes, said all production would be halted if the inadequate water supply continued.

The spokesman added that production already had been "severely" affected with water-cooled machinery turned off at intervals since June 16.

Main cause of the water shortage was attributed to the lack of a heavy pumper at a West Side pumping station. Mayor Lausche said the city started to seek priorities for the pumper two years ago but the war production board replied that the Army and Navy had a greater need for such pumpers.

American-Made Flying Bombs

DISCLOSURE by an army spokesmen that the robot planes used by Germany against England are on the United States armament list, too, and will be used if and when necessary, should dispose of the naive assumption that they are some special product of German ruthlessness.

The robot planes, with the doubtful difference that there is no risk to a pilot in their operation, are no more ruthless than the night "saturation" bombings of German cities. There is a distinction, but no essential difference, between them and long-range artillery shells, which also are subject to the charge of blind and wanton destruction.

As Walter Lippmann has expressed it, the robot planes as a prevue of what is coming in the next war should furnish a mighty inducement to keep peace this time. When American ingenuity gets around to proving it can make a better flying bomb than the Germans, the things can be lobbed from Peoria, Ill., to Berlin and global war then really will begin to get tough.

For Value Received

THE government's annual struggle to collect its $5 "use tax" from automobile owners again is sharpening popular resentment of this inequitable levy. It would be just as fair, just as reasonable, to collect $5 from every person who owned a vacuum cleaner or a pair of roller skates. The only reason the tax exists, aside from the revenue it produces, is the fact congress lacks gumption to repeal it.

Meanwhile, guided by a poll of its membership, United States Chamber of Commerce proposes that post-war road building and repairs be financed by "use taxes" levied according to the auto user's actual benefit. Such taxes would be imposed in addition to regular state licenses and fees, and the returns, of course, would be segregated for highway improvement.

As a general principle, automobile owners have no objection to paying high taxes for value received; their payments over a period of years have met the bulk of the expense of the roads that made the auto industry possible. They do object and should continue to object—strenuously—to being taxed as owners of a certain article of property for the benefit of the general fund. In the hands of politicians, such a precedent could be expanded until it made auto ownership here as prohibitively costly as it is in Europe, where government killed the goose before it had a chance to lay its golden egg.

An Instituiton Totters

SOMETHING may have happened to the big show's big top at Hartford besides a disastrous fire and panic resulting in the worst tragedy of circus history. Spokesmen admit they do not know yet how the big show is going to be rebuilt, but they hint at the possibility of going on the road when the job is done without the big top which is the circus trademark.

The show would be put on in buildings, as it has been staged for many years in Madison Square Garden at the opening of the season. Its bookings would be restricted to localities where adequate facilities existed. While the spokesmen mention this only as a temporary expedient, it is possible the expedient might become the practice. Nothing has assured permanence in a dynamic universe—not even the big top.

Even if the big show's big tent reappears, the chances are the Hartford tragedy will result in drastic alterations—some by designers' choice, others by legal necessity. In any event, all who look forward to breaking in a grandchild to the thrills of the circus may have to draw on memory to reconstruct the big top as it once was. When the flames had finished it Hartford, the last of the traditional big tops may have disappeared forever.

Mrs. Roosevelt's Conversion

ELEANOR ROOSEVELT'S recent "My Day" on the theme of tolerance for the other fellow's viewpoint—the foundation of American liberty—sounds almost like a confession in reverse. She happens to be looking at the side of the issue on which some Americans are condemned by their fellow citizens for radicalism, but on the other side is the New Deal practice of condemning Americans for conservatism. It apparently has not occurred to Mrs. Roosevelt that the name-calling she objects to—the Bourbons, Tories, princes of privilege, isolationists and other smear words and phrases overworked in the last decade—received its great impetus under White House auspices.

Two wrongs do not make one right. Too many Americans have been preoccupied with the lethal game of extremism on both sides. Radicals and conservatives have been tagged and attacked with equal viciousness. The blame for trying to divide the nation into irreconcilable camps must be shared by all who have failed to put national unity ahead of national division. It is called to Mrs. Roosevelt's attention that Gov. Dewey in his acceptance speech pledged himself to find "areas of agreement" in which all Americans of goodwill could stand together, instead of being pitted against each other in the class warfare she belatedly deplores as a threat to national security. It is reassuring to know that the governor's appeal has gained so prominent a convert at the outset of his campaign.

Today and Tomorrow

Lippman Looks at Issues Raised by Possible Renomination of Wallace.

By WALTER LIPPMANN

HENRY WALLACE is subject to a handicap which no other candidate for vice president has ever before had to meet. He is trying not as he were a candidate for president. One can only compare his position with that of Gov. Bricker, who was considered on the general assumption that there is no normal probability of his becoming president. If the country thought that there was a serious possibility of his being president, there is little doubt that virtually all out the rank and file of the habitual Republicans would bolt the ticket. In so far as Gov. Bricker is accepted by independents who would prefer to vote Republican, it is on the notion that they are voting not for another Harding but for a Throttlebottom.

But Mr. Wallace is no Throttlebottom and the question of his renomination is by general understanding the question of visualizing him as president of the United States.

Arouses Partisanship

On one issue all will agree, Mr. Wallace arouses intense, almost fanatical, partisanship. His friends who are legion, give him the kind of devotion which Bryan and the elder LaFollette in their day aroused. His enemies, who are also legion, are irreconcilable. The fundamental question is whether, with the president running for a fourth term, they can nominate a vice president, not unlikely to be president in this fourth term, who divides the people so deeply and so sharply.

This is a consideration which transcends not only personalities but even specific issues. The case for the president's re-election must perforce be based on the argument that the complicated machinery of war-making and peace-making would become seriously stalled by a change of administration.

But this argument is bound to falter if the country sees a serious possibility that this complicated machine might pass into the hands of a man who, regardless of his high qualities of mind and heart, divides the country.

The matter ought not, it seems to me, to be presented as a factional quarrel in which Henry Wallace wins and is triumphant or loses and is humiliated. His own conscience, which is as disinterested as that of any man in our public life, must tell him that in these times, with great things that are at stake, a man who divides the country and has little prospect of uniting it, ought not to be a candidate.

For however important the ideas for which he stands, he would be jeopardizing and not promoting them if they become involved in bitter class and sectional conflict.

Well-Traveled Prophet

Mr. Wallace's training is that of a prophet. There is a wide difference between prophecy and government. As a prophet, and an agitator for his prophecies, Mr. Wallace has ranged far and wide. There is no doubt, I think, that there is in him much of the feeling and the tendency of things to come. But he is a mystic and isolated man to whom the shape of the real world is not clear, in which he is not at home and at ease. It is here, I believe, that the profound distrust of his being president originates, and I am speaking of those who like him and admire him and understand his ideas.

No one can be certain, of course, what responsibility will do to a man. It changes all men. But the politicians have to judge Mr. Wallace by assuming that he would be in the White House what he is in the vice presidency. Many of the voters, too many to be disregarded, would feel, I think, that his elevation to the presidency would produce a profound, perhaps an unreasonable, sense of anxiety, and of loss of confidence in the conduct of the government.

This would arise, I think, not because Mr. Wallace is not a good man. On the contrary, he is an exceptionally fine human being. It would arise from an intuitive realization that his goodness is unworldly, that his heart is so detached from the realities that he has never learned to measure, as a statesman must, the relation of good and of evil in current affairs.

Jap "Efficiency Apartment"

Homeland Same Size as Montana.

WHEN B-29 raids strike the Japanese homeland, the effect must be imagined in terms of miniature areas foreign to American experience. The Japanese live in the world's smallest "efficiency apartment."

Their homeland is approximately the size of Montana—and with about the same inconveniences. Much of the land is useless for agriculture. There are mountains, lakes and rocky slopes.

Yet, in its 148,756 square miles, Japan proper supports a population estimated in 1939 at (73,000,000, compared with Montana's meager 559,000.

But Japan's size is deceiving, when described only in square miles. It reaches from sub-arctic to sub-tropic latitudes. If its island area were laid out in the Atlantic off the coast of the United States at the same latitudes, Formosa would lie across Cuba and southern Florida, Tokyo would be due east of Norfolk, Hakodate due east of New York City and Sakhalin athwart Newfoundland. The northernmost island Paramushiri would lie off the coast of Labrador.

Military, Japan's vast span, relative to its area, creates unique problems of attack and defense.

There are no important inland cities. All vital population and production centers lie on the coastline, vulnerable to naval attack. It is a fact usually overlooked that long-range guns on heavy battleships were intended originally for bombardment of coastal cities. The United States navy ultimately will be used against Japanese cities in exactly the same way as Allied battleships were used in the invasion of Normandy—to pound land targets. Unlike Germany, where the job of crippling war industry must be done exclusively by bomber, battleships can help in Japan.

Mountains make the backbone of the three principal Japanese islands—Honshu, Shikoku and Kyushu. An earthquake zone, with an average of four tremblors a day and serious quakes every six or seven years, lies along the Pacific coast near the Bay of Tokyo.

Invasion Hurts Two Ways

Economic Blow Added to Military Problem.

ALMOST as damaging to Germany as the military pressure being exerted from the Normandy invasion is the loss of the region's food production, explains Paul Wohl in Barron's National Business and Financial Weekly.

The invasion has deprived Germany of two of the richest districts of France, La Manche, which takes in the Cherbourg peninsula, and Calvados, whose capital is the besieged city of Caen. The Germans had depended heavily on them and on neighboring regions, also made useless by the military effort centered in Normandy, for huge amounts of dairy products.

"The Germans, desperately short of dairy products of all sorts, and especially animal fat were careful not to interfere with Normandy's production," explains Wohl. "This explains the exceptionally good food situation so vividly described in dispatches from the invasion area, and the fact that some of the great dairy producers there were not so happy about the invasion. Relatively speaking the dairy industry of the Lower Normandy region profited from the first three or four years of war."

Wohl speculates further on the economic blows in the making in France. For example, if Allied assaults from the Mediterranean cut France away from the Pyrenees on the Spanish border, rail transportation in the southwestern section, depending on water-generated power from the mountains, would be paralyzed, unless steam engines could be substituted. Similarly, invasion from the south would deprive Germany of indispensable bauxite production in southern France.

The German war machine has drawn on the French wine industry for alcohol. The ore mines and heavy industries of Lorraine, for another example, would be a heavy loss, if military operations isolated them. "In the long run," concludes Wohl, "the economic and logistic implications are more important to us than the capture of Cherbourg, which is mainly a naval fortress and a liner terminal. However, if we can get Le Havre and Rouen, also the stream of Allied military reinforcements and supplies might soon become great enough to seal Germany's defeat."

Daily Bible Thought

If you imitate Christ you will be saved from shame and sorrow in this world too: "For God sent not His son into the world to condemn the world, but that the world through Him might be saved."—John 3:17.

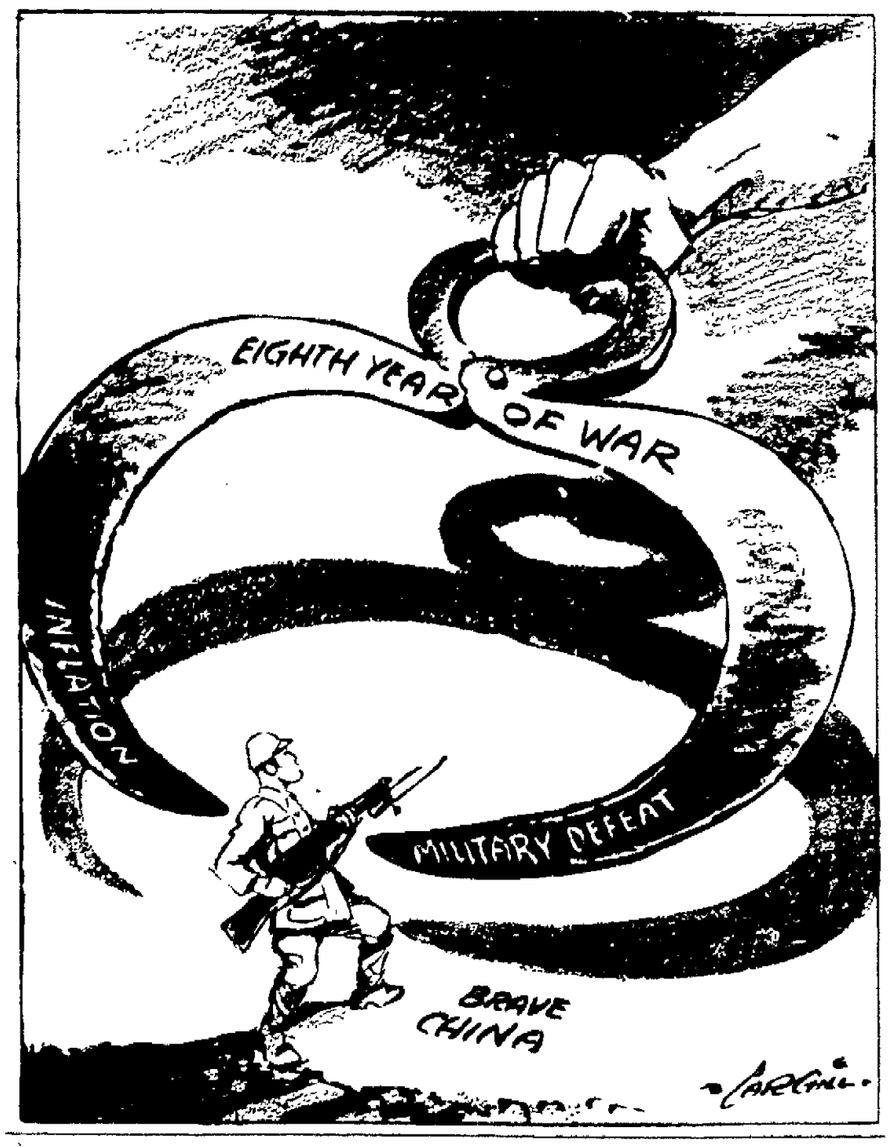
PINCERS MOVEMENT



150 Years-Plus of Friendship and Fighting

Touchy Relations Between France and U. S. an Old Story.

GEN. DE GAULLE'S visit to the United States, the fact American troops are fighting in France and the search for some agreement which will satisfy the majority of Frenchmen and Americans is repetition of a familiar experience in Franco-American relations.

There have been few longer frendships than that between the United States and France, but few more tempestuous relationships. Hard feeling and good feeling have been mixed in about equal proportions since the two countries were allies during the American Revolution.

In World war I, most American soldiers who went overseas went to France and returned full of criticism. In all probability, they would have disliked any other county under the circumstances, just as in this war they claim to be able to see merit only in the United States. But the fact is, they concentrated on France, particularly French frugality, commercialism and legalism.

Part of the trouble has been absence of any large French immigration into the United States, such as that which has eased relations between the United States and Italy and is at the bottom of a kindly feeling toward most Germans, except when their country runs amuck in war. The French people are not inclined to leave home. Between 1850 and 1940 only 461,000 of them settled in the United States.

Relations were strained after World war I when the French accused the United States of bad faith over the League of Nations issue. The senate refused to consider a Franco-American-British treaty for France's defense by which the French had been persuaded to give up some of the war settlements they had demanded. At the Washington naval conference in 1921-22, the French retaliated by spiking moves to limit cruisers and submarines. In 1923, the United States withdrew its army of occupation from Germany in protest against France's occupancy of the Ruhr.

BY 1925, Americans were accusing France of bad faith over war debt settlements. In 1931, the French were outraged over the moratorium on war debt payments and reparations.

The record of friendship with no love lost begins with the Revolutionary war, when a treaty of alliance was signed. The French interpreted it as requiring the United States to come to their aid against England in the 1790's, but President Washington ruled that the treaty wasn't binding—and Frenchmen were furious. They were even more embittered when their minister, Genet, was dismissed for undiplomatic conduct.

French warships began to capture American ships carrying cargoes to England and to sink English vessels in American waters. An American mission sent to France was told it would have to pay bribes (the "X. Y. Z. affair") to get a hearing. Congress established a navy department and authorized warships and privateers; from the middle of 1798 until the end of 1799, when Napoleon I came to absolute power, an actual Franco-American naval war took place, although it was never officially declared.

In 1831, France signed a treaty to settle claims for French depredations on American shipping from 1800 to 1817. The treaty was unpopular in France, and the French chamber of deputies refused to vote appropriations to carry it into effect. Thereupon President Andrew Jackson accused the French of bad faith and asked congress for authority to seize French property in the United States; the house of representatives voted for preparations to meet "any emergency"; France recalled its minister to Washington and gave the American minister his passports. As in 1798, preparations for war were made on both sides. But France was eventually persuaded that Jackson had not meant to insult her, and the 1831 treaty was fulfilled.

Napoleon III took advantage of the American Civil war to set up Maximilian as emperor of Mexico. With Lee's surrender at Appomattox the French found it expedient to withdraw support from their Mexican stooge.

Pilot Surplus

A veteran pilot surplus is developing as one of the war's most unfortunate boondoggles, sais Aviation News:

"The condition is becoming worse each week as combat pilots are being returned to this country in increasing numbers, most of them never to fly another mission over enemy lines. Although many have been made instructors, are taking special training courses, and are in desk jobs, hundreds of others are frozen out entirely because there are not enough assignments for everyone. There are even too many ferry pilots because there are more men than planes. Some are not flying as much as 12 hours a month.

"The matter is deserving of immediate attention by AAF top-side," declares the magazine. "If these veterans cannot be assigned to worthwhile military posts some provision should be made to place them on reserve status and permit them to find their places in the morale of the army air civilian life, and the sooner the better, both for themselves and forces."

From News of Other Years

10 YEARS AGO

It was Wednesday, July 11, 1934.

The Marion County Republican Women's club, headed by Mrs. W. N. Harder, president, met for a picnic at Garfield park with 150 members and guests in attendance.

Mrs. Jennie Pace, 59, died at her home at 260 Edwards street.

With the government's announcement that the 1934 wheat crop would be approximately 50 per cent of a normal one, wheat quotations in Marion jumped from 76 to 81 cents a bushel.

Records of the secretary-treasurer of the Harding Memorial association, audited following the death of the late Hoke Donithen, who formerly held that position, were truned over to Ray R. King, temporary secretary-treasurer, at a meeting of the association at White Oaks Farm. Those attending were Frank A. Huber, C. D. Schaffner, C. B. King, French Crow, Ray R. King, Dr. Carl W. Sawyer, all members of the committee, and Alfred Donithen, assistant secretary-treasurer.

20 YEARS AGO

It was Friday, July 11, 1924.

Common stock in the Cleveland Discount Co. would be worth nothing after secured creditors had been paid, it was revealed in a hearing in the Cuyahoga county common pleas court.

President and Mrs. Calvin Coolidge returned to Washington from Plymouth, Vt., where they buried their youngest son, Calvin Jr.

Mrs. Emma Criswell of North Main street suffered a severe cut on her head when the automobile she was driving collided with a machine driven by Miss Ella Kiger of 591 East Center street.

A son was born to Mr. and Mrs. Harvey T. Gracely of East Church street.

Annual picnic of the Marion Traffic club was set for July 17 at Garfield park. George Sherer was chairman of the general committee in charge.

No syndicate can touch me,
I'll show no writing style
With men like Westbrook Pegler
And Simms and Ernie Pyle;
I'll not record my doings—
I'll merely be a wife;
Let Thomas have the spotlight,
I crave the peaceful life.

III

I will not give indorsements
For beds or books and such;
I'll have no platform manner,
Nor literary touch;
I'll have no railroad schedules;
No bugles will I sound;
If I get to the White House
I think I'll stick around.

IV

I feel it must be pleasant
To occupy the place,
And do a little sitting
And set no dizzy pace;
Let Thomas get the headlines,
Red, black or green or pink;
The White House must be lovely
When one would sit and think.

V

To keep it nice and cozy—
To see the cooking's right—
To be around when Tommy
Is lonesome is my delight;
I'll soothe him when he's fretful,
And cheer him when he's gruff;
Just staying in the White House,
Just staying in the White House,
Gosh, CANNOT be so tough!

Episode in a Fishing Department of a Sports Goods Store

Q—Have you any fishing rods?
A—Sorry; not a rod in stock.
Q—How about a good line?
A—We can't get those either. War, you know.
Q—Could I get a reel of any kind?
A—We haven't had a reel in over a year.
Q.—How's chances of a net?
A—Sorry; no nets.
Q—Oh, well, it's all right. I'm fishing a stream where there's no fish.

By Truman Twill

Dear Nephew: I am trusting to luck that by sending this to you at the office, instead of your house, I will be able to keep your wife from finding out about it. But I do not have much hope. You and your big mouth will be too much for me.

We have had a little bad luck, nothing unusual, but just the ordinary run of stuff that kids get into when they learn things the hard way. I suppose it was to be expected, but that doesn't make it any easier to bear. Your boy has found out about nettles, poison ivy and bees, though not in that order.

As I remember it, they came first when you spent your first summer vacation with us.

I hasten to assure you the boy is doing as well as can be expected. The bee got him on the forehead, where there isn't much room for it to swell. While he was taking things easy on that account, he took it into his head to pull up some weeds that were crowding the corn of the garden and about an hour later he began to complain about his arms and hands. He had had worked up a good sweat around his middle and was on fire there, too. That was the nettles. They came on the second day.

Then on the third day, just as if the whole thing was being run off on schedule, he was ordered to take it easy, so what did he do but clear down to the far end of the orchard for some magazines he was going to read and get himself stretched out with his bare legs in a patch of poison ivy? It wasn't a very big patch and I didn't even know it was there in spots, as what your aunt says. She is pretty excited, as you can imagine.

What with poulticing the bee sting, getting off the place where the nettles bit and putting various lotions, salves and powder on the poison ivy, all of us have been busy the last few days. You will be interested to know that the most upset of the three of us is the boy, himself. He says you had told him about the poison ivy and the bees, but had not mentioned the nettles. If I recall correctly, you have personal reasons to remember all three.

Incidentally, the way he got the bee sting was to see the bee floating in the chicken water kettle. He thought it was dead and picked it up to examine it. The pesky thing had just enough life left to get to his forehead and start to excavate. Fact of the matter is, it left a Grade A sting, but it didn't need to be in that particular location.

In the ordinary course of events, all these things should be cleared up in about three more days and another town boy will have learned to take care of himself a little better. These things are bound to happen sooner or later, and in my opinion it is better for them to happen sooner rather than later. The next time he gets in the neighborhood of poison ivy he will know exactly what it looks like. I made sure that he got a good look at the stuff as soon as he began to itch, and I'll bet he never forgets it. He will write to you real soon, he says, and meanwhile don't worry. If you think you must tell your mother, go ahead, but maybe what she doesn't know won't hurt her.

YANKS DRIVE ON LEGHORN

Encircling Tactics Employed To Overcome Strong German Resistance.

By The Associated Press

ROME, July 11—Employing encircling tactics against stubbornly defended and heavily fortified German strongholds, American troops were working their way steadily northward today in a broad enveloping movement aimed at the key Italian port of Livorno (Leghorn).

Allied headquarters announced that Fifth army forces had bypassed the town of Lajatico, 21 miles southeast of Livorno, in one phase of this movement and had stabbed on ahead against fierce opposition.

A similar operation resulted in the bypassing of Pomaja, about eight miles inland from the Italian west coast and approximately midway between Lajatico and the coastal town of Castiglioncello. Troops which drove around Pomaja on the east subsequently captured the village of Casale, one mile to the north.

The 100th battalion, composed of American troops of Japanese origin, was engaged in violent fighting on relatively flat ground three miles west of Pomaja and was reported making some progress.

The German garrison at Pomaja thus was threatened on two sides, and the Nazi force at Lajatico was in much the same position.

Except for a few spots where the enemy gave ground grudgingly to maintain a unified line, the battle along the entire Italian front was slow and arduous. The Nazis launched a number of fierce counter-attacks.

There were growing indications that it likely would be a matter of many days before the allies battle their way even to contact with the main Gothic line defenses.

The most impressive gains reported for yesterday's operations were the Eighth army's penetration to the villages of Castel Di Broglio and San Regolo, nine miles northeast of Siena; a thrust by other Eighth army units five miles beyond Carpiai in the upper Tiber valley, and the steady smash of the Americans to a point six miles north of Volterra.

Guam and Rota Attacks Follow Fall of Saipan

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

The new and heavy attacks on the islands of Guam and Rota by American warships and bombers are a natural accompaniment of our capture of the neighboring island of Saipan—the strategic air and naval base which has been one of the enemy's main shields not only for Japan proper but for the Philippines.

The war is moving very fast in the Pacific. The fresh assaults on Guam and Rota certainly presage neutralization of these bases and it's not unlikely that we shall occupy them. I believe we may expect similar operations in the immediate future against other major Japanese bases in this inner defense are—Truk, Yap, Palau and Bonin, all of which are now within reach of our big bombers.

Where Next?

But after we have neutralized and perhaps occupied these islands, where do we go? It would indeed be interesting to know what ideas are being nursed by those two energetic and resourceful old campaigners, General MacArthur and Admiral Nimitz, now that we have possession of Saipan. Certainly what this pair has in mind would bring no joy to a harassed Nipponese government which twelve days ago, during the height of the bloody struggle for Saipan, broadcast to its public:

"We, the 100,000,000 people of Japan, must realize now, if ever, that the outcome of the battle of the Marianas (the group of which Saipan is the main island) will exert a very serious influence upon the future war situation."

Well, what "very serious influence" is likely to eminate from this volcanic island which American forces have won at heavy cost to their own ranks, and with the annihilation of an estimated 10,000 of the fanatical Japanese garrison of 20,000 which elected to fight to the death? There are several possibilities, for Saipan is at the crossroads of the Japanese empire and will provide Uncle Sam's super-bombers with a land base less than 1,500 miles from Tokyo and about the same distance from the Philippines.

Path to Many Points

This means that when we have completed neutralization of the few islands in this Japanese defensive arc we shall have cleared a pathway which will permit of direct assaults against the Dutch East Indies, the Philippines and perhaps against Japan itself. So it won't be long before we are at close grips with the mikado's main forces.

All this is fully recognized by the Japanese government which is being blunt in warning the public of the seriousness of the situation. Tokyo's immediate worry is the certainty that the mother country is going to be heavily bombed. This means disaster, for Japan's over-crowded cities are flimsily built and the destruction will be great. Evacuation of children from Nippon's six principal cities already is under way.

As the signs read, aerial bombardment of Japan is going to be a major factor in forcing her capitulation.

When it comes to the major invasions one would expect the Philippines to be close to the top of the list. Establishments of a strong base in these islands, which MacArthur has sworn to redeem, would provide the Allies with a mighty wedge with which to split the enemy defenses wide open. Its first effect would be to sever Japan from her all essential supplies in the East Indies. The recapture of her ill-got gains, the invasion of the continent and the direct assault on Japan proper would follow naturally.

Petitions Received by Council

Recreation Commission Calls for Action on Requested November Vote on Swimming Pool Project.

Legislation, petitions and other routine matters came before city council at its semi-monthly meeting Monday night. Discussions of matters now in the hands of committees were held in meetings with Mayor Harry L. Dowler before and after the regular council session.

In the caucus preceding the council session considerable time was given to discussing procedures for establishing and extension of water lines in the city. Meeting with the members and mayor was Otis Porter, manager of the Marion Water Co. who came to Marion recently, succeeding Earl J. Pierce as head of the company here. Mr. Porter assured the council members of the company's cooperation in planning for changes and installations of water lines, and it was agreed that members of the water committee, will confer with Mr. Porter regarding these matters before presenting them before council. In this way legislation can be speeded up and changes which frequently are necesary after the matter has been placed before council, will be eliminated.

A request for a raise in pay and several other matters presented by nurses at the City hospital were referred to the hospital committee.

Reply Requested

Robert T. Mason, a member of the Marion City Recreation commission, asked council for a definite reply to the commission's recommendation that the matter of a swimming pool and recreation center for the city be placed on the ballot at the November election. The resolution was ordered placed on file at a recent meeting of council after it was brought out that a systematic plan for improvement of the city is being considered by the city planning commission. In view of this, the planning commission recommended that the project of a recreation center and swimming pool not be submitted as a project to the voters at the present time. No further action was taken last night.

Matters Referred

Petitions of Thelma Mayse for transfer of property in the Fairfax addition and Joe Seris for a transfer of property in Starr's addition to the city from residential to commercial districts were referred to the planning commission, and the following petitions were refered to their proper committees: storm water and sanitary sewer installed from Bennett street to 410 Clinton street; extension of water pipe line on Clinton street from Bennett street to 410 Clinton street; sanitary sewer on Bennett street from Clinton street to west terminus of Bennett street; extension of water pipe line on Bennett street from Nye street to 1130 Bennett street. Repairs on Oliver street were requested and President W. G. Slack called attention to the fact that the light at the Leader Street viaduct, which has been out for some time, had not been repaired. He specified that this should be given attention immediately. A request from members of the First Pilgrim Holiness church to construct at their own expense a curb and gutter on the west side of the church was referred to the street and alley committee and the city engineer.

Object To Factory

A petition bearing 25 signatures of residents in the vicinity of the scene of the recent fire of the Henneuse Engineering Co. on Superior street, asking that the site not be used for a factory, was presented. It was the opinion of council members that the district is a residential and not an industrial area, and Phil Rea, councilman from that ward, was authorized to notify the factory owners of this fact.

A resident of Hayes street presented a complaint against the Sanders Wrecking Co. using public property for the making of repairs. This was referred to the service director and police.

Council authorized the appropriation from the park fund to the general administration fund of $1,500 to cover maintenance and operation of parks, and also authorized payment of $57.18 to William Martin for improvement of an alley on Windsor street. The sum of $40 was also appropriated to defray expenses of Chief William Marks to Washington, D. C., to attend the closing activities of the Criminal Investigation school.

Report on Relief

The monthly report of F. S. Burns, relief area director showed that 49 cases involving 121 persons had been handled, and disbursements in the amount of $1,388.20. Operation costs at the sewage treatment world for the month of June amounted to $1,210.40 and the water analysis for the period ending July 7 was as follows: high 8.4 and low 6.3.

The report of Chief of Police Marksc was as follows: Traffic Bureau collection for June $537; arresis 146; complaints handled 366; automobiles stolen and recovered 2; bicycles stolen 11, recovered 8; total volue of recovered property $1,537.80.

When asked about watering lawns and victory gardens, Mr. Porter said watering will be permitted and no restrictions are in sight at present. His only request to Marionites is that they see water is put to proper use and not wasted.

New Water Lines Near Completion; Others Proposed

Additional families in the southwest section of the city will be able to connect their homes with city water mains this week, according to an announcement made today by Marion Water Co. officials that extension on mains in that section are expected to be completed before end of the week.

Almost a half-mile of extensions are being constructed on Bennett, Glad, Nye and York streets and on Fies avenue. The work was undertaken when a number of wells on which homes depended for water supply became contaminated. The work is being done under supervision of the J. M. Leach Co. of Bellefontaine. Construction of the extensions has been going on nearly two weeks.

Other sections of the city also may have extensions in the near future, it was announced. Plans are now being discussed as to requirements. Streets included in tentative arrangements are Patterson, Ballentine, Fahey, Bartram and Leader.

The U. S. Chamber of Commerce estimates that the United States will have 3,500 ships totaling 20 million gross tons at the end of the war.

SECOND EFFORT TO CONTACT MEN FAILS

By The Associated Press

BELLAIRE, O., July 11—Rescue crews tried to contact 66 men entombed at nearby Powhatan mine through a new shaft early today, but only an eerie silence greeted their shouts into the pit and they virtually abandoned all hope the coal miners still were alive.

Final desperate efforts to get a response from the tunnel where the miners were trapped by fire last Wednesday were being made today before giving up the imprisoned men for dead.

A drill three inches in diameter broke through last night from the top of Carpenter's hill to the mine corridor where the men were cut off, but for a second time no response came from below.

A nine-inch shaft was sunk through 400 feet of earth at another place yesterday. Then, too, the work crews heard only the echo of their own voices when they called into the mine.

Two canaries were lowered into the mine through the three-inch vent late last night, then a microphone with an amplifier was dropped into the pit early today.

The birds were left in the shaft for several minutes and mine officials said presence of excessive lethal gasses would have killed them.

All external entrances to the mine, largest in Ohio, were sealed Thursday as the only means of extinguishing the fire after it got beyond control.

Mine Supt. Roy Fox said the final operation will be the digging of a slope entry into the mine to recover the bodies. This will require about three weeks, he estimated.

Powerful U. S. Fleet Reported at Tinian

NEW YORK, July 11—The Japanese radio said today that "a very powerful enemy fleet consisting of two aircraft carriers and more than 30 cruisers and destroyers are plying the waters northwest of Tinian island" in the Marianas.

The radio report, a Domei agency advisory, said 90 planes attacked the stolen American island of Guam in the Marianas July 10 and that cruisers and destroyers shelled Japanese positions on Guam while other aircraft were bombing Tinian and Rota. All are in the same island group as captured Saipan, 1,405 miles from Tokyo.

"Enemy raids against our positions around Saipan are increasing in intensity," the advisory said.

Domei said "several large planes and more than 30 small planes" were observed using Aslito airfield on the southern end of Saipan island, first captured strip in the Marianas, which has been in operation a week or more.

The Berlin radio said the United States "possesses considerable supremacy in aircraft carriers" in the Marianas.

"The United States has prepared itself for a decisive battle," the Berlin radio asserted. "It will not shun this battle wherever opportunity offers."

ALL HANDS LOST AS U. S. SUB GOES DOWN

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 11—Loss of the 20-year-old submarine S-28 during training exercises in the Pacific was announced by the Navy today.

The sub carried a complement of about 80 men and was under command of Lieut. Comdr. Jack C. Campbell, 29, whose wife, Mrs. Jean Brooks Campbell, lives in Groton, Conn.

The Navy did not disclose where the S-28 was lost.

"The depth of water makes it impossible to salvage the submarine, and hope has been abandoned for the recovery of the missing personnel," the Navy said.

It added that an investigation is being made to determine cause of the accident.

"There were no survivors," the Navy said.

It added that next of kin of all casualties had been notified.

The S-28 was built by the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corp. at Quincy, Mass., and was commissioned in December, 1923. She is the 25th submarine to be lost since the war started and the second lost in training exercises during that period.

The other submarine lost in training was the R-12, sunk off the east coast of the United States.

In the advance beyond Wilno Chernlakhovsky's cavalry and light tanks were only 48 miles from Kaunas and 37 miles from the Berlin-East Prussia and Kaunas-Riga railway.

In Wilno the Russians were stiffing the last German resistance. Moscow dispatches said it was expected that the total trapped might be as large as that in the Minsk area.

Associated Press Correspondent Eddy Gilmore, writing from Moscow, said that Wilno's narrow streets were helping the Germans immensely because it was almost impossible to operate tanks within the town.

Gilmore said the Germans appeared to be making their last defense of Pinsk in the south.

The capture of Pinsk would eliminate the bulge which the Germans long have held on the Soviet front. Already the Red army has two-thirds of the Pripyat marshes behind it.

The advances have now carried into areas of the Soviet Baltic Republics—virtually treeless and with good roads—where tanks and motorized infantry are expected to take up more of the burden than they previously have carried.

NEW PLAYGROUND SET FOR OPENING

Supervised Center To Start at Olney School Tomorrow.

The Marion Recreation commission announced today that a new playground will be opened at the Olney Avenue school tomorrow at 1 p. m. The project had been requested by the Olney Avenue P.-T. A. and mothers' group. Equipment owned by the P.-T. A. will be used as well as commission-owned apparatus. A sand box will be installed soon.

Miss Marjory Epley has been employed as supervisor for the playground. At a recent meeting of the commission the P.-T. A. made a request for the playground and the commission members promised to study financing it. A decision was later reached that the commission would sponsor the project if a supervisor could be obtained.

WAR DEPARTMENT CALLS FOR MORE ARTILLERY

Build Up Pressure as Germany Grows Weaker.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 11—The war department stepped up its heavy artillery ammunition program today for heavy new blows against a German military machine reported by the foreign economic administration to be obtaining its raw materials on "a bare hand-to-mouth basis."

Brig. Gen. R. E. Hardy, chief of the ordnance department's ammunition division, said the several hundred per cent expansion included approximately $100,000,000 worth of additional machine tools, presses and furnaces alone.

He attributed the increase to unprecedented demands from the combat zones, asserting the 5th army in May used 64,750,000 pounds of heavy artillery ammunition against the Gustav line below Cassino.

Meanwhile, the foreign economic administration reported Germany's war economy has so deteriorated under combined Allied attacks that she faces "substantial certainty of defeat in 1945 if not in 1944."

The remaining order—declared unacceptable in its present form—is the one most important from the standpoint of civilian consumers. It would permit WPB field offices to grant "spot authorizations" to manufacturers to produce certain needed goods, if the manufacturer could prove he had labor and machinery not needed for war work.

De Gaulle Leaves U. S. for Canada by Plane

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 11—Gen. Charles De Gaulle left New York by plane for Canada today, ending a gala visit during which he was cheered and acclaimed by thousands of New Yorkers.

An Army transport plane carrying the tall French leader and his party took off from La Guardia field.

De Gaulle, head of the French committee of national liberation, was bound for Ottawa. Among Canadian officials he was expected to see was Prime Minister Mackenzie King.

A crowd estimated at 500,000 cheered the French leader with shout of "Vive De Gaulle" and "Vive La France" as he drove up Fifth avenue yesterday.

Compromise Likely In Civilian Goods Dispute

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 11—Signs emerged today that the military may prove willing to compromise with WPB Chairman Donald M. Nelson on his disputed program paving the way for reconversion.

Army and Navy sources indicated, however, that the controversy would be carried to the White House, where James F. Byrnes, director of the office of war mobilization, stated yesterday he would make the decision if necessary.

From well informed government sources it was learned the Navy is not unalterably opposed to three of the four orders which were sponsored and announced by Nelson but which bogged down in a civilian-vs.-military controversy after he fell ill with pneumonia.

THE final meeting of the season for Marion Juvenile Lecture-Recital club was held last evening at the home of Barbara Babcock of Forest Lawn boulevard. The meeting was in charge of Blue Ann Baldauf, in the absence of the president, Carolyn Pennsinger. Mary Kline led the national juvenile pledge to open the meeting.

Contest winners were Barbara Babcock, who was presented a miniature statue of Mendelssohn in a spell-down of the year's study, and Barbara McIntire, who was presented a miniature statue of Corot for having the largest amount of bonds and stamps. Sallie Schneider ran second in the sale of bonds.

The musical program consisted of the following piano solos: "Hebrew Melody," by Joyce Roberts; "Flower Song" Lange, by Mary Kline; "Brave Heroes of Bataan" Fran Gray, by Peggy Mc-Williams; "Flower Song" Lange by Marjon Fields and "Consolation" Mendelssohn, by Barbara Babcock.

Mrs. Ralph Mills announced that next season each candidate for membership would be required to play two numbers from memory. The date of the hostess was announced later.

The national collect, given by Mary Anne Wilhoyte, closed the meeting and the group sang the Star Spangled Banner, accompanied by Barbara Babcock at the piano. Refreshments were served by Mrs. Miles Babcock. Mrs. Lawrence Kline and Judy Reichenbach were guests.

Mrs. Harry Hofford entertained the Marion Bird club Friday afternoon at her home on Johns street. Prizes were won by Mrs. Edna Cowan and Mrs. Margaret Russell. Readings were presented by Mrs. Mae T Horan and Mrs. Merle Williams and a piano solo by Mrs. Bruce Carney.

Announcement is being made of the marriage of Miss Viva Swinney, of 438 Lee street, to James A. Cline of 196½ South Main street. The ceremony was performed in the courthouse at Ironton on July 8 by Rev. Gordon Mayhood, minister of the Church of the Nazarene at Ironton. Attending the couple were Mrs. Gene A. Copeland and John K. Marshall.

The former Miss Swinney is employed in the credit department of the Montgomery Ward and Co. store and Mr. Cline is employed at Virgil's cafe. They will make their home at 438 Lee street.

BIG ISLAND OPENS COMMUNITY HOUSE

Old School Building Remodeled; First Meeting Held.

Remodeling of a one-room schoolhouse for use as a community house is under way in Big Island township. Located on the Gravely pike it is owned by the township and has been used for voting. It will be used by adult and youth community groups.

Friendly Neighbors Council, Big Island Council and Friendly Farmers Council, aided by the 4-H club and the Highlanders Youth Council, have been instrumental in promoting the project and doing the work of remodeling. Begun in February, the improvements to date include cleaning, tearing out partitions, making screens for the windows, repairing the roof. Paint has been bought and will soon be applied. Cupboards for equipment will be built. Donations of furniture are already being received.

The first meeting in the new community house was held Monday night by the Highlanders Youth Council, one of the youth councils being organized in the county by the Farm Bureau. The council discussed plans for the countywide recreation party to be held in August. Kathryn Selter was named to represent the council on a committee planning the party.

ALLIED GAINS IN ONE MONTH. Allied invaders from Allied headquarters in Italy disclosed strong trenches separated the Nazi forces in a front of 150 miles in one month. Since the present offensive started just after the fall of Rome, more than 35,000 German prisoners have been taken and enemy losses have been "beyond count." These divisions, it is reported, are now virtually destroyed and many of the 24 Nazi divisions remaining are reduced to skeleton forces. Shaded area on the map indicates the territory won by the Allies in their one-month advance. (International)

Pfc. Anderson And Miss Jean Eager Wed in California

MR. AND MRS. J. H. EAGER of 391 Bellefontaine avenue announce the marriage of their daughter, Jean, to Pfc. R[illegible] of the U. S. Marine Corps, son of Mrs. L. [illegible] of Bellefontaine. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. [illegible] at 2:30 p. m. on the 24th of June in the parsonage of the First Baptist church in Garden Grove, Calif. The ceremony was read by Rev. Harold H. Kinsman.

For the wedding, the bride wore a navy blue suit with white accessories and a corsage of gardenias. For something old, the bride carried her mother's handkerchief.

The couple was attended by the groom's sister and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. G. F. Anderson, and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Dipaolo, friends. Following the ceremony, they were guests of honor at a reception in the [illegible] home.

The bride is a graduate of Harding High school class of 1943 and was employed at Daniels pharmacy in Garden Grove. The bridegroom graduated from Thomas A. Edison Junior high school before entering the service. The couple will make their home in Stanford street in Garden Grove.

In and Around Marion

Flap-Happy

A young Marion couple took their two and a half year old son and their Cocke Spaniel dog on a picnic out into the country. Afterwards they walked down the road, the dog running joyously ahead. The mother laughingly exclaimed, "Look at the dog's ears flapping!" Whereupon little son went running down the road and called back, 'Look, mommy, look at my ears flapping!'"

Lands Big Bass

A Marion fisherman set a possible record recently with a six-pound, 12-ounce bass brought in at Lake View on Indian lake. R. G. Smallwood of 366 Bellefontaine avenue was the fisherman and he said his catch was the largest registered bass for the season so far and a possible all-time record for bass there. At the lake a week over the Fourth, the party he was with hooked a considerable number of fish and he and his son-in-law, Glen Penry of Mt. Vernon alternated together caught 12 bass. Mr. Penry's largest was a four-pounder, four-ounce bass. They used soft crawfish bait. It took a three to four-minute fight to land his bass, Mr. Smallwood said. The party included Mrs. Smallwood, Mrs. Penry and the Penrys two sons.

Handy for Storage

With the wartime zeal of putting to use everything useable, for any purpose whatsoever, always before us, here is a hint that may be of merit for Marion girls who must make purses do for carry-all kits and often have to "rummage" through the entire contents for such small items as bobby pins. Do you have any empty lipstick cases you have not thrown away? If you have one or more of these you'll find that, after cleaning them out thoroughly, they make excellent storage places for bobby pins that would otherwise be scattered among other objects, or for pins or extra snaps or hooks for those times when unexpected repairs need to be made on milady's costume. That way you'll have only to "rummage" for the lipstick cases!

Cpl. Spitzer of LaRue Weds Miss Alice Adams

The home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeremiah Adams of LaRue was the scene Saturday at 8:30 p. m. of the marriage of their daughter, Alice Elizabeth, to Cpl. Ernest Spitzer Jr., son of Ernest F. Spitzer of LaRue. The double ring ceremony was performed by Rev. J. W. Horne, retired minister of the LaRue Methodist church. The home was attractively decorated with vases of cut flowers.

The traditional wedding marches were played by Mrs. Albert Amstutz.

The bride wore a two-piece dress of powder blue crepe with brown and white accessories. Her corsage was of American beauty roses. For "something old" she carried an Irish linen handkerchief belonging to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Isaac Bauer.

Attending the bride as maid of honor was Miss Dorothy Watkins of near LaRue. She was attired in a blue and white two-piece dress and wore a shoulder corsage of gardenias. Franklin Spitzer served his brother as best man.

Immediately following the wedding, a luncheon was served by Mrs. Oscar Beery and Mrs. George Smith.

The new Mrs. Spitzer is a graduate of LaRue High school in the class of 1944. She is at present employed as clerk typist at the Marion Steam Shovel Co. Cpl. Spitzer graduated from LaRue High school in 1943. He entered the armed forces following his graduation and is at present stationed at Camp Carson, Colo. Mrs. Spitzer plans to remain at the home of her parents for the present time.

FARLEY STEPS DOWN AS N. Y. CHAIRMAN

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 11—James A. Farley, "smiling Big Jim," bows out today as Democratic state chairman, his last of many official party positions during 35 years in politics.

The 56-year-old Farley, who opposed a third term for President Roosevelt after directing the campaigns that won him his first eight years in the White House, kept to himself this future role in American politics.

Paul E. Fitzpatrick, 47, Buffalo businessman whom National Committeeman Edward J. Flynn termed "100 per cent for Roosevelt," was slated to succeed Farley in the post he held for 14 years. Fitzpatrick will be recommended by leaders to a special meeting of the state committee today.

Farley, who in 1940 stepped down as postmaster general and as national chairman, said at a testimonial dinner for him last night that he would "always be interested in the success of my party" but gave no hint of his probable course at the Democratic national convention next week.

Farley, a delegate-at-large, has not disclosed whether he will actively oppose a fourth term for the President as he did in 1940 when he was a candidate himself.

Girl Scout Camp Program Set for Opening Next Week

... plans are being made for ... the Girl Scout Day ... next week. Day camp will ... at the same place as ... year on the farm of Orla ... Prospect road. All girls ... the ages of 7 and 18 ... attend.

... will be open to Inter- ... and Senior Girl Scouts, ...-18, on Mondays, Wednes- ... and Fridays. It will be ... Brownie Girl Scouts, ages ... and 9, on Tuesdays and ... days. On rainy days, camp ... be held at the American ... Dugout, 146 South High. ... announcements as to ... camp will be held will be ... over radio station WMRN ... ing the 6 o'clock newscast.

Best Standards Set

The Day camp committee of ... Marion Girl Scout Council ... been busy checking thor- ... with "Minimum Standards ... Scout Camps" in order ... the Marion camp may come ... minimum standards in all ... Some of the things ... have been done to insure ... fety and well being of the ... girls are: having a trained ... Aider on the site at all ... times and making arrangements for emergency medical or hospital care; having transportation available at all times in case of emergency; checking of the water supply; arrangements with a taxi cab company for transportation of Brownie Scouts to and from the camp site. Parents of Brownie Scouts who have not made arrangements for transportation may inquire either of the Brownie troop leader or the Girl Scout office.

The approximately 50 girls who attended Brownie camp each day last year requested more camping this year, so the camping season for Brownies is double that of last year and the Brownies will have their own days in camp so that more girls can be accommodated at one time.

Staff Near Completion

The staff for this year's camp is now nearly complete. Many have served as camp counselors in previous years. For the last four weeks the counselors have been receiving specific training for their jobs in camp and they have made many plans for program activities.

To supplement the staff the Marion council is for the first time using some Senior Girl Scouts as program aids, who will be assisting with the teaching of specific camp skills to the Brownie and younger Intermediate Scouts.

Among program activities planned for this year are a bicycling unit for older girls and a photography class.

Further information about Day camp may be obtained at the Girl Scout office.

STUBBORN CASE OF CONSTIPATION GONE

"No more salts, oils, every day," writes ex-sufferer

Want to stop dosing—and yet keep regular? Then read this unsolicited letter from Mr. Lowe, who writes:

"I am 71 years old. Today I am in the best of health. But for 15 years I had a stubborn case of constipation—had to rely on salts or castor oil every day. Got so weak I could hardly walk. Five months ago I read one of your ads and my wife advised me to try your ALL-BRAN. After first week my passage was normal. For six months I have been eating KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly and haven't taken a laxative. Thanks for ALL-BRAN's grand relief." Frank Lowe, 4303 Bell Ave., Des Moines, Iowa.

You'll be interested in knowing exactly how KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN helps so many people—how this wholesome cereal gets at a common cause of constipation—lack of certain dietary cellulosic elements. You see ALL-BRAN is one of Nature's most effective sources of these elements—which help the friendly colonic flora to puff up and prepare wastes for easy elimination. KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN is not a purgative, it is a "regulating" food.

If your constipation is this kind, eat KELLOGG'S ALL-BRAN regularly — and drink plenty of water. See if it doesn't help. Insist on genuine ALL-BRAN, made only by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

COLUMBUS, O., July 11—An examiner's report on the condition of Ohio's finances disclosed a treasury balance of $131,782,225.02 as of Dec. 31, 1943, State Auditor Joseph T. Ferguson announced. The report listed an additional $5,744,920.03 in depository trust funds not yet allocated to their proper accounts. A sum of $386,349,059.82 is being held in the state treasury as assets belonging to various state retirement systems, Ferguson said, adding that his books and those of State Treasurer Don H. Ebright balanced to a penny.

OHIOAN TO WED ACTRESS

By The Associated Press

HOLLYWOOD, July 11—Motion Picture Star Gail Patrick will be married today to Lt. Arnold Dean White, USN, of Circleville, O., she announced yesterday. Miss Patrick's representative, Helen Ferguson, said the romance began last May when the couple met in New York. They will be married in Jacksonville, Fla., where the actress is on a bond selling tour. She was divorced in 1940 from Bob Cobb, Hollywood cafe owner.

CONTINUE WORK STOPPAGE

By The Associated Press

YOUNGSTOWN, O., July 11—John J. McGowan, local president of the CIO-United Steelworkers of America, reported approximately 200 of the 600 idle employes at the seamless tube department of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Co.'s Campbell plant voted last night to continue for a week the work stoppage they began yesterday.

GOVERNORS TO BACK DEWEY

G.O.P. Executives Plan Conference To Map Campaign Plans.

By The Associated Press

Democrats talked platform and vice presidential problems today while Republicans looked forward to a pooling of the election-winning abilities of their 26 governors for the benefit of Thomas E. Dewey's race for the presidency.

Rep. John W. McCormack of Massachusetts, majority leader in the house and chairman of the Democratic convention platform committee, expressed confidence that one plank will call for "sound and international action to prevent war" and to assure permanent peace."

The convention starts a week from tomorrow in Chicago but a two-hour visit between President Roosevelt and Vice President Wallace at the White House yesterday produced no new information on how Wallace stands for renomination.

Whether Mr. Roosevelt, the expected nominee for a fourth term, requests Wallace's selection will be of great consequence, but Wallace was emphatic in saying the only subject they discussed was China, whence he just returned.

At Montgomery, Ala., Gov. Chauncey Sparks declared southerners who want to supplant Wallace are unwise in not uniting behind one candidate alone. He said he thought Sen. Alban Barkley of Kentucky would be a good bet politically.

A conference of Republican governors, which was disclosed by Gov. C. A. Bottolfsen of Idaho as having been set for Kansas City Aug. 7-8, was discussed at the national convention which nominated two state executives—Dewey of New York and John W. Bricker of Ohio, for vice president.

Gains made in recent years in the number of states governed by Republicans were described at the convention by Gov. Earl Warren of California, the keynote speaker, as proof that the country as a whole will go Republican in November.

Politicians interested in the influence of the CIO's political action committee watched today's race between Mayor Maurice J. Tobin of Boston and State Treasurer Francis X. Hurley for the Democratic nomination for governor of Massachusetts.

Utah, Washington, Michigan, New Hampshire and Oklahoma chose nominees for congressional and state offices.

Minnesota Republicans gave a long lead yesterday to Gov. Edward J. Thye, running for renomination against John C. Peterson. A close to two-to-one margin was piled up at the same time for Byron G. Allen of Detroit Lakes, running for the gubernatorial nomination of the combined Democratic-Farmer-Labor party.

MILKWEED NEEDED

COLUMBUS, O., July 11—Ohio youngsters will have an opportunity this fall to help America's fighting men by collecting milkweed pods, Elmer F. Kruse, chairman of the U. S. agricultural department's state war board, said yesterday. Milkweed floss—1,000,000 pounds of it—is needed to replace kapok, a buoyant vegetable fiber, in life jackets.

Oddities in News from Ohio

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O.—Detective C. C. Strader was questioning a prisoner to get routine information for the records.

"What's your father's name?" Strader asked.

"Never mind him," the prisoner mumbled.

Strader repeated the question. The prisoner repeated the answer.

"Spell it!" the distracted detective said.

The father of the prisoner was named Nelmine Hilm.

PIN-WORMS Now can be Beaten!

The miseries of Pin-Worms have been known for centuries, and many doctors have sought a way to deal with this dreadful pest that lives and grows inside the human body.

Today, thanks to an important scientific discovery, a new and highly effective treatment is being hailed by medical authorities. It is based on a remarkable drug known as gentian violet. This drug is the vital element in P-W, the new Pin-Worm tablet developed by the laboratories of Dr. D. Jayne & Son, America's leading specialists in worm medicines.

P-W makes it unnecessary for you or your child to suffer in silence with the embarrassing rectal itch caused by Pin-Worms, or to take chances on the real distress they often create. The small, easy-to-take P-W tablets act in a special way to destroy Pin-Worms.

So watch for possible warning signs such as: itching seat and nose, uneasy stomach, bed-wetting, nervous fidgeting. If you suspect Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for a package of P-W and follow the simple directions carefully.

It is easy to remember: P-W for Pin-Worms!

It's the answer to a hungry appetite—this Borden's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk—whether that appetite belongs to tiny Bobby, grade-school Betty, or Mr. Head-of-the-house, who works hard and needs plenty of energy and pep.

Yes, everybody likes this improved milk. And there's a reason. They enjoy its wholesome, creamy flavor, and its rich, appetizing color. They like "the cream line that goes all the way down"—and makes every single drop, from first to last, just the same. They like the way it makes breakfast foods taste ever so much better. They like the way young Bobby drains his glass now, without any coaxing—and the way Betty and Mr. Head-of-the-house and all the rest enjoy and benefit from this milk.

And that isn't all! Borden's Homogenized Milk is fortified with 400 units of extra vitamin D in every quart—the "sunshine" vitamin that means strong bones and sound teeth to growing children, and better all 'round health to everybody! This is one reason why so many doctors recommend Borden's Homogenized Vitamin D Milk.

Try a bottle now. Treat yourself to the zestful, refreshing flavor with all the extras!

Marion's 6 to 4 Victory Makes It Two Out of Three Wins from Newark

Teams Meet at Lincoln in Last of 4-Game Series Tonight.

By BOB COCHERL

The Marion Cubs made it two wins in three tries against Newark last night at Lincoln park as they whipped the Moundsmen by a score of 6 to 4.

It was Red Bailey, Marion's pitching entry in the All-Star lineup, who had baffled Newark with six scattered hits. It was his ninth win against four setbacks. Red on the hard game his mates gave him support in four starts.

Newark scored first with two jacks in the fifth to be tied to Majorki in runs in the second and a batter left.

Ken Garver had a neat job of relieved to 4th Majorki groundout, McDonald then walked and Volan to third. Barnes was hit by out in the fourth and allowed one a pitched ball and stole second on struck out four. However, Bellamy's throw was late. Volan Red Bailey had the situation well scored on the bad throw. Hoppa in hand and held the Newarkites and Hudson both walked, filling three hits in the last three inthe bases. Conn hit a slow roller to third which he beat out, Barnes scoring. Friend struck out to end the inning. They scored two more in the third as Case was safe on Smith's bad throw to Jeski and Eddie Volan's home run over the right field fence.

Cubs Score in Second

The locals scored their first run in the second inning as Bill Morneweg hit a high fly back of first which the second baseman stopped. Morneweg went to second. Bellamy then walked and Carlsen flied out to center, sending Morneweg to third. Kemper walked, filling the bases. Then Bob Kuhlman flied to left scoring Morneweg after the catch.

In the third Marion tallied two more runs as Granzig walked, Morneweg hit a long triple to right field, scoring Granzig with Bellamy singling Morneweg home.

Again in the fourth the Hartleyites scored, this time three runs, on two walks, two singles, a sacrifice and an error. It was Bob Kuhlman leading off with a free ticket to first, taking second on Bailey's sacrifice and scoring on John Smith's single through pitcher's box. Al Jeski then rapped out his second hit of the ball game with a single to left field sending Smith to third. Granzig walked, filling the bases. Morneweg then hit toward third base, taking first and Smith scored as Conn bobbled the ball. Joe Bellamy then batted one unlucky in last night's game for the two double play starting seventh inning Carlsen of Marion flied to Garver, who threw to first doubling Bellamy to retire the side. Then in the next inning McDonald flied to Bailey who threw to first to catch Majorki.

New Right Fielder

Marion's right fielder was a new player to the local fans as Bob Kemper, formerly of Los Angeles of the Pacific Coast league, filled the position once held by Virl Minnis now with Jamestown, N. Y.

Tonight Marion will tangle with Newark for the last game of their four-game series. The probable pitchers will be Koffman for Newark and Otey for the locals.

Volo Song Clips Second Off Record

By The Associated Press

CLEVELAND, July 11—Volo Song, last year's Hambletonian winner, today was the possessor of the world record for trotting stallions.

The four-year-old brown son of Volomite stepped the second heat of the $2,090 championship stallion stake in 1:57¾ at North Randall's grand circuit oval yesterday to shave a full second off the old mark established by Nibble Hanover at Old Orchard, Me., three seasons ago.

The E. J. Baker entry also broke North Randall's 29-year-old track record and paced four and three-quarters seconds off the mark he set for himself in last year's Hambletonian.

Driver Harry Fitzpatrick guided the Song across in 2:03¾ in winning the first heat and then let him go all out in the second when Fitzpatrick gave the colt only one crack of the whip—on the home stretch and he left the placing Darnley a dozen lengths behind.

SANDWICH BAR WINS 5 TO 0 FROM WALDO IN SOFTBALL LOOP

Locals Beat Chief Rivals, Allow Only Four Men To Reach First Base.

Sandwich Bar moved to the lead in the Commercial softball league last night by defeating their chief rivals, the Waldo Dodgers, to the score of 5 to 0. Weiss pitched a one hit game for his fifth straight win. Jim Salyer hit a single in the first inning to spoil a no hit game by the star Sandwich Bar hurler. Weiss struck out fifteen men and issued one walk. Only four Dodger got on base, one of these reaching second. Jim Salyer reached first on his hit and reached second on an out. He got on first on an error in the fourth inning and died there. Smith reached first on a walk and Butler made first on an error.

Sandwich Bar got five hits and the help of five Waldo errors to get their five runs. The first and winning run was an unearned run in the first inning. K Somerlot, second man up reached second on an error. He then scored on a long fly out. Berringer's defeat was his first of the year. He gave no walks and had no strikeouts.

In the Sunday School league two games were played. St. Mary defeating First Presbyterian, 17 to 5, and Epworth going to victory over Greenwood Evangelical, 6 to 5.

Walters Tops Night Pitchers

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 11—Bucky Walters, Cincinnati star right hander who is expected to start for the Nationals leaguers in the annual game at Pittsburgh tomorrow, is about question the king of night game pitchers in the major leagues.

Save the big show is being played under the lights at Forbes Field, the figures for Walters' night work take on added significance.

Bucky has started nine after dark games for the Reds and hasn't been knocked out yet, a remarkable feat in itself. He has won eight of the nine and boasts a seven-game winning streak under the arc. The only game he lost at night was a 2-0 affair to the Phils May 18 when southpaw Ken Raffensberger outdueled the Reds with a three-hitter.

Altogether, Bucky has worked 84 innings in the nine games, a couple of which went overtime. He yielded only 66 hits in this span, his best effort a two-hitter against Pittsburgh at Forbes Field for a 3-0 triumph June 20. During this same period he issued only 24 walks, hit one batter and fanned 22. Indicative of his effectiveness in the pinches a total of 63 opposing runners were left stranded.

Here Is What Americans Say on Fourth Term Announcement

By The Associated Press

Wendell L. Willkie, unsuccessful Republican candidate for president against Mr. Roosevelt in 1940: "Is that news?"

Mayor F. H. La Guardia of New York: "I am very happy to hear it but frankly I can not pretend to be surprised and that goes for the nomination, too."

Paul E. Fitzpatrick of Buffalo, N. Y., newly elected New York state Democratic chairman: "That is very good news to this country."

James W. Gerard, former ambassador to Germany: "I expected he would accept the nomination and I am gratified that it now seems assured he will. I believe also the President will be reelected."

Rep. Gearhart (R-Calif.): "Did he say anything about the fifth term? or possibly the sixth?"

Rep. Sullivan (D-Nev.): "Swell."

David Dubinsky, president of the International Ladies Garment Wokers (AFL): "President Roosevelt's acceptance will cause no surprise to the trade union world. It will meet with the overwhelming approval of the 300,000 members of our organization. • • • It seems quite safe to say that Mr. Roosevelt will be reelected to the White House."

Eugene T. Connolly, secretary of the New York county committee of the American labor party: "The American labor party in New York welcomes the president's decision."

Senator Pepper (D-Fla.): "The nation expected this of the President and it will approve his decision."

Senator Murray (D-Mont.): "The great majority of our citizens will welcome this announcement."

Senator Burton (R-Ohio): "It is not unexpected and does not change the plans of the Republican party. His continuance in office is not essential to winning the war. It would be won even though he were to cease to be president tomorrow."

At Vice President Wallace's office at the capitol, an aid said no comment was planned.

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex): "I am against a fourth term for anybody. Personalities do not enter into it. Long tenure in office is too close to the dictator form of government."

Rep. Robinson (D-Utah): "The country has been demanding that Mr. Roosevelt run again."

ROOSEVELT

political silence that had plunged the capital and the nation into speculation for months.

At every news conference since his return from a mid-spring vacation in the south, newsmen have questioned him one way or another about his political future. Always in the past the President either has ducked the questions with facetious replies or ignored them completely.

With the President certain to be the democratic choice for renomination this year, the state of his health undoubtedly will play a role in the campaign.

About a month ago Vice Admiral Ross T. McIntire, the President's personal physician, told newsmen Mr. Roosevelt is in excellent health. He described him as being in better shape than the average man of his age—62 years.

During the winter Mr. Roosevelt suffered from colds, influenza, sinus infections and a bronchial disorder but McIntire said his rest in the south and a subsequent take-it-easy office schedule has erased all signs of these ailments.

He said the President is as well now as he was a year ago and observed that a year ago he was in good shape.

Mr. Roosevelt appeared in excellent spirits as the reporters filed into his office this morning for the momentous statement they didn't know they were going to get. Ninety-nine newsmen were on hand for the conference, smaller than the average turnout. Many of the Washington regulars — political writers—missed Mr. Roosevelt's fourth-term statement because they are at Albany, N. Y., covering the man who will oppose the fourth-term bid — Republican Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

Something Bigger Coming

As the conference started, Mr. Roosevelt went over his recent discussions with Gen. Charles De Gaulle of the French committee of national liberation and talked about a few other things.

Then he told the reporters not to try to go because the doors were locked.

"Why?" a reporter asked.

Because there is something else, replied Mr. Roosevelt.

"Well, we can wait as long as you can," a newsman laughed at the President.

Taking up the joke, Mr. Roosevelt leaned back in his chair and said the doors were locked because he is interested in human welfare and they didn't want to see anybody injured in the scramble for the doors if everybody tried to get out at once.

Then he was asked if it was his intention to talk about a fourth term and the newsmen got the first inkling of what was coming.

He had held Hannegan's letter and his reply in his lap, so that reporters immediately before him had no idea what was coming.

As he leaned forward and put the correspondence into view so he could read it, he turned to his secretary, Stephen Early, to ask if Early had arranged copies for the reporters. Early said he had and the President went ahead with the announcement which put him into this year's Democratic campaign as the first man in history ever to become a possible occupant of the White House for 16 years.

Wyandot County Native Dies in Cleveland

UPPER SANDUSKY, July 11—Relatives here have received word of the death, Sunday, of Sister Mary Magdaleen, in a Cleveland hospital. She had been ill about two weeks. Death was attributed to pneumonia.

Sister Mary Magdaleen was born July 26, 1900, in Salem township, Wyandot county, the daughter of the late Frank and Emma Weaver Arnold. She entered the Notre Dame Order of Sisters 22 years ago and since had followed her religious work in and near Cleveland.

Surviving brothers and sisters are Vincent Arnold, of Carey; Cletus Arnold, of Upper Sandusky; Mrs. Mary Cleghorn, of Toledo; Mrs. Agnes Rall, of Upper Sandusky, and Sister Mary Adelicia, of the Notre Dame Order of St. Louis, Mo.

Indianapolis Worm Turns on Red Birds

By The Associated Press

Even hapless Indianapolis is lending a helping hand to the front-running Milwaukee Brewers, who are having things pretty much their own way in the American Association race.

Last night the last-place Tribe fashioned its first victory of the season over Columbus, 16-6, to dump the second-spot Red Birds seven games behind the Brewers, who neatly disposed of Minneapolis, 3-1.

Columbus' defeat further sharpened the scrap for the No. 2 position as third-place Louisville spanked Toledo, 10-7, to climb within five percentage points of the Red Birds.

A scheduled double-header between St. Paul and the Blues at Kansas City was postponed because of rain.

COLOMBIA PRESIDENT SEIZED BY SOLDIERS

By The Associated Press

BOGOTA, Colombia, July 11—Numerous army garrisons and prominent Colombian military leaders declared their loyalty today to President Alfonso Lopez, who was held prisoner at Pasto, southern Colombia, by a group of rebellious army officers.

Vice President Dario Echandia, who emphasized his loyalty to Lopez, proclaimed a state of emergency after announcing last night he had assumed the acting presidency.

(A dispatch from San Jose, Costa Rica, said the Bogota radio had announced loyal armies were marching on Pasto, where Lopez and several cabinet members were surrounded yesterday and carried off while they were watching army maneuvers. The radio said the government had decreed control of the press and the country's economy. A Panama dispatch said the Pasto garrison was estimated at 5,000 men.)

Communications between Pasto and the rest of Colombia were cut off by the conspirators.

War Minister Gen. Domingo Espinel condemned the movement against the government and announced confidence it soon would be suppressed.

Dario Echandia, who held tightly to the government reins in Bogota along with other officials of the Lopez administration, emphasized he was determined to stamp out the revolt. He said he would exercise the functions of president until Lopez was freed.

Hardin County Clubs Plan Fair Exhibits

Special to The Star

KENTON, O., July 11—Forty 4-H clubs are in operation throughout Hardin county this year and their 621 members have undertaken 643 projects, County Agent Boyce E. Bradford declared today as each prepared to enter one or more exhibits in the county junior fair, in late September.

Members of the junior fair board, who will supervise activities in that division, include:

Ruth Ann Crooks of Forest, home economics; George Mathews Jr. of near Kenton, grains; Helen Bushong, Kenton, 4-H; Neil Sutherland of Kenton, sheep; Doris Spencer of Alger, 4-H; Evelyn Patrick of Forest, home economics; Myron Turner, Kenton, cattle; Charles Koehler, Mt. Victory, 4-H; Mary Alice Spar, Ada, 4-H; Vernon Hiller, Kenton, cattle; Idella Heilman, Mt. Victory, 4-H; Justin Sherman, Kenton, swine; Robert Comstock, Kenton, poultry; Leonard Cox, Belle Center, 4-H; and Calvin Kraft of near Kenton, grains.

The fair is to be held here on Sept. 27-28-29-30.

THE POOR FISH

By The Associated Press

KANSAS CITY—J. G. Ellis and Richard Staley, with Staley's son Billy, saw a commotion in the river. Then they saw a large fish chasing a one-pounder.

The little fellow was going so fast that he zoomed out of the water to the river bank. He flopped once and then was still. When the fishermen picked him up he was dead, with no mark of injury. The men decided he died of fright.

CAEN AND LA HAYE DU PUITS FALL. British and Canadian armored and infantry forces, supported by aerial attacks and naval bombardment, have driven the Germans out of the vital rail hub and river port of Caen and forced them back to a line along the river Orne. Fifty miles to the west, Lieut. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's First American Army has mopped up La Haye Du Puits, western anchor of the Nazi defense system. (International)

FUNERAL TODAY

KENTON, July 11 — Funeral was held today in the Flat Branch Church of Christ, west of here, for Mrs. Lewis Shepherd, 64, for mwoman who died Saturday night in McKitrick hospital. She was a native of Kentucky and had resided in Hardin county 23 years.

PIE IN HIS EYE

COFFEYVILLE, Kas. — The young people of the Christian church were holding a pie auction and Kurt Kime offered to be the target if anyone bid more than $5 for the pineapple cream. In no time at all the bid went to $6.75. Kime got it in the eye.

GETS WORD OF SON HELD IN JAP CAMP

Kenton Officer Said To Be Caring for Sick.

KENTON, O., July 11 — Mrs Minnie Jackson today held more firmly-entrenched than ever the hope that her son, Major Calvin G. Jackson, is alive and well in a Japanese internment camp near Davao City, Philippine Islands.

Yesterday she received a letter from Major Jack Hawkins, one of 10 prisoners who fled a Jap camp in the Philippines.

Major Hawkins wrote that Major Jackson is in one of the best of the internment camps in the area and that when he last saw the former Kenton surgeon in April, 1943, the officer was in good health and was doing splendid work among the sick of Camp No. 2, the old Davoa penal colony. Dr. Jackson has been a prisoner of the Japanese since the fall of Bataan peninsula on April 8, 1942.

The first comedy was performed in Athens about 550 B. C. on a movable scaffold.

G. O. P. Governors and Dewey Arrange 2-Day Conference

By The Associated Press

ALBANY, N. Y., July 11—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, Republican nominee for president, will confer with 25 other GOP governors at St. Louis Aug. 2 and 3 in a conference, he said today, which would deal with the "area of responsibility and obligation as between the states and the federal government and how these obligations to the people can best be performed."

Dewey said at a press conference that "every single Republican governor has indicated his great pleasure in coming and says he expects to be there."

In outlining the purposes of the St. Louis meeting, the governor declared:

"There has been continuing debate, ever since the New Deal took office, over the area of responsibility as between the states and the federal government.

"That discussion has covered topics such as employment services, the aids to agriculture, particularly centering around the use of land grant colleges, the responsibilities for relief, the effort three years ago to federalize unemployment insurance entirely, and, of course, the very large field of taxation in general."

Dewey said the conclusions reached would "not only serve as a basis for united opinion in the Republican party on an issue which splits the Democratic party wide open, but even more important, will serve to eliminate the constant and serious friction after a Republican administration takes office next January."

Dewey asserted there would be no speeches, explaining that "this is a work conference." He added there "undoubtedly" would be a discussion about campaign strategy and that in addition to the conference there was "a distinct possibility" he would confer with middle western party leaders.

MRS. BRUGLER DIES

KENTON, July 11—Mrs. M. S. Brugler, 66, died Sunday in her home near Rushsylvania, south of here, and will be buried Wednesday afternoon following services in the Rushsylvania Presbyterian church. Among survivors are the husband; a son, Major S. G. Brugler, former Belle Center dentist who only recently returned to the United States after spending 23 months in the South Pacific; three daughters; one sister and one brother.

The world's largest and coldest thermos bottle, maintaining a temperature of 297 degrees below zero, is used in an American shipyard to provide acetylene and oxygen for burners, welders and rod operators.

STOCK PRICES SLIP LOWER

Quotations Dip After U. S. Steel Drops and Dealings Taper Off.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 11—Stocks generally took a test on a lower market shelf today although there were exceptions.

Prices for most leaders began to slip after a fairly steady start when U. S. Steel dipped a point. Dealings tapered as offerings appeared and, while scattered plus marks were in evidence near the fourth hour, losses of fractions to 2 points predominated.

Prominent on the offside were Bethlehem, Chrysler, U. S. Rubber, Texas Co., Du Pont, Radio Corp. and Air Reduction. Resistance was displayed by Goodyear, American Can, Dow Chemical and International Harvester.

LONG ILLNESS FATAL TO MRS. MINERVA MOORE

Former Marion Resident Dies at Bucyrus.

Mrs. Minerva Moore, 74, of Bucyrus, former resident of Marion and mother of Mrs. Robert Grove of 196 Forest Lawn boulevard, died Saturday at the Scott Rest home in Bucyrus. She had been ill for eight months.

Born Nov. 14, 1870, to John and May Essex Bradburn, Mrs. Moore was a native of Indiana. She was married Feb. 14, 1896 to Lute Moore and moved to Bucyrus four years later. In 1913 the family moved to Marion and lived here until 1918, when they returned to Bucyrus. Mr. Moore died in 1931.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. Grove, Mrs. Kathleen Senseney of Bucyrus; a son, L. Bruce Moore of New York City, and a sister, Mrs. Emma Williams of Los Angeles, Calif.

Mrs. Moore was a member of the Baptist church in Bucyrus.

Funeral rites were held today at 1:30 p. m. at the Munz Funeral home at Bucyrus with Rev. O. M. Lasley officiating. Burial was in Oakwood cemetery at Bucyrus.

CROP FORECASTS UNSETTLES GRAINS

By The Associated Press

CHICAGO, July 11 — A high government crop forecast, including predictions of an all-time record wheat harvest, unsettled grain futures today. Declines were not as great as expected, however, and most prices rallied at times under short-covering.

Rye and barley showed more strength than other grains. A rye crop was forecast less than had been predicted a month ago.

Workers in 3 Breweries on Strike in Columbus

By The Associated Press

COLUMBUS, O., July 11 — Production of beer at three of Columbus' four breweries came to a virtual standstill today as a strike of truck drivers spread gradually to inside workers.

The truck drivers struck yesterday, spokesmen for the companies said, in protest against a system of delivery under which bottled and keg beer are distributed simultaneously.

Breweries affected were the Franklin Brewing Co., the Ohio Brewery, Inc., and the August Wagner Breweries, Inc. Spokesmen said about 350 men, members of the Brewery Workers Union No. 47, CIO, were idle.

FRANCE

when Lt. Gen. Omar N. Bradley's columns pushing south from Carentan and down the west bank of the Vire river threatened German flank positions.

Yanks Advance 4 Miles

South of Carentan the Americans drove within four miles of Periers, key road junction leading to the La Haye Du Puits front. The Doughboys drove about a mile south of Sainteny, making good progress on the west side of the road where they captured La Forges, just south of Sainteny.

In expanding this sector the Americans also captured Graignes, four and one-half miles south-southwest of Carentan.

Similar progress was registered by Americans smashing west from the Vire and south along both banks of the river.

The Americans captured and pushed south of Pont Hebert, four miles nortwest of St. Lo. East of the river they captured La Meauffe, four miles north of the same city. These advances represented gains of more than a mile and one-half in the past 24 hours.

Capture of Graignes practically merged the Wire river fighting with that south of Carentan.

The combined pressure from these two drives appeared to be forcing the Germans in the Cherbourg peninsula sector into a withdrawal southward.

This was borne out by the fact that the Americans, who have been encountering an unceasing series of counterattacks in the La Haye Du Puits area, launched a stiff attack at 10 a. m. yesterday and reported that suddenly at noon German heavy resistance ceased.

There were indications that the Germans now are fighting only rearguard actions while they withdraw southward.

Supreme headquarters had no naval activity to report.

SUFFICIENT LIVESTOCK FEED IS IN PROSPECT

Favorable Weather Will Produce Enough for Year.

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 11—Government food officials who have been harried for months by the specter of a critical livestock feed and grain shortage rested easier today.

An agriculture department crop report indicated that, given favorable weather during the next six weeks, the nation will have sufficient food to carry it through until the 1945 growing season arrives.

A record wheat crop of 1,127,822,000 bushels and a very large corn crop of 2,980,236,000 bushels was forecast. These grains will be supplemented by fairly good crops of other livestock grains such as oats and barley and by a near record crop of hay.

Reflecting fears of a feed shortage, farmers have indicated they would produce only 87,025,000 pigs this year—a reduction of 33,771,000 from the previous year. They may raise their goals and produce a somewhat larger fall pig crop than previously indicated.

War food administration officials said the indicated feed supply would be sufficient to supply a pig crop of 91,000,000 or 92,000,000 head in addition to the indicated numbers of dairy cows, beef cattle, poultry and other livestock.

Escaped Ohio Prisoner Ordered Back To Cell

By The Associated Press

SEATTLE, July 11—A fugitive who said he hid his criminal record from his wife and to avoid detection stayed at home as housekeeper while the spouse worked in war plants today was ordered returned to the Ohio state reformatory from which he escaped nine years ago.

Superior Judge Chester A. Batchelor ruled that John Wilson Kuglar, 31, should be surrendered to two officers who came here to return him to the prison at Mansfield, O.

Kuglar, father of a four-month-old child, had gone to court in an effort to avoid extradition to Ohio, where reformatory officials said he was sentenced from Akron for 10 to 25 years for robbery.

Kuglar said he had served all but eight months of his sentence when he escaped.

WLB Gets Request from Timken Workers

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON, July 11—The war labor board had under advisement today a request from a CIO United Steel Workers local of the Timken Roller Bearing Co., Canton, O., for appointment of a permanent arbitrator for handling grievances.

Martin Raphael and John G. Ketterer, attorneys for the union and company respectively, went before the board yesterday to state their cases.

Raphael contended company representatives often did not sincerely attempt to solve disputes and there had been a "breakdown in the collective bargaining machinery" at the plant. Two hundred grievances have been presented during the past year, he said, and the company has replied "with a series of noes."

WILLKIE PLATFORM SUBMITTED TO G.O.P.

By The Associated Press

NEW YORK, July 11—Wendell L. Willkie sent a draft of a proposed platform to the recent Republican national convention but its views — which differ from those of the adopted platform — were not submitted to the delegates.

The 1940 Republican presidential nominee, who last night made public the text of the document, said his representatives in Chicago were unable to offer his proposals due to the speed with which the convention disposed of the platform.

Willkie's suggestions differed from the convention platform on foreign policy, states' rights tariffs, taxes, labor, the racial problem and other planks.

On foreign policy, the New Yorker urged:

"Immediate creation of a council of the United Nations as a first step toward the formation of a general international organization in order that all the peoples of the United Nations should have a voice in the decisions which will shape the world in which they live."

He also advocated "use of American sovereignty in cooperation with other powers to create continuing international organization for the good of all with the power to uphold its decisions by force if necessary."

Fire Is "Delivered" To Marion Firemen

The usual procedure of going to a fire was reversed yesterday afternoon when a smoking Yellow Cab driven by James Kemble of Lincoln avenue pulled up in front of the Central fire department station. The blaze resulted from a short circuit in the battery cable. A hand pump was used and only minor damage reported.

The Dutch by the Treaty of Breda (1667) gave New Netherlands (New York) to England in exchange for Surinam, also called Netherlands Guiana.

Auto Driver Watches Painters, Crash Results

Ray West of near South Charleston, O., and George Ault of near Prospect were involved in an accident at 10:30 yesterday morning on Route 4 south of Marion, state highway patrolmen reported. Mr. West, having north in an automobile, was attracted by painters working on the large snowstorck at the Marion-Reserve Power Co. south of Marion and did not notice that he was approaching a manure spreader driven by Mr. Ault, also headed north. Mr. West was unable to stop his car and ran into the rear end of the spreader, throwing Mr. Ault from the seat of the horse-drawn vehicle. The front of the automobile was damaged considerably and the rear end of the spreader suffered slight damage. Mr. Ault suffered bruises.

LOVE'S FAIR HORIZON

By ADELE GARRISON

"All ready?" I told Harry Che- [illegible] all in the accepted red and blue and [illegible] it's wasted time but not [illegible] a no. Here we go! Oh, to be free. All the way and I'm to go to [illegible] and from the [illegible]

Brave words, and with a [illegible] sentence "Mother" [illegible] whereupon I [illegible] and [illegible] a real boy I am.

A Lot to Spill

"Sorry to have kept you [illegible] he said. "Just [illegible] and a [illegible] and [illegible] getting [illegible] look. I've one of my [illegible] quality but it [illegible]

"Unfortunately, he and [illegible] are the cause of a message [illegible] you from me. He wishes [illegible] tell you that you have a [illegible] to start everything in the [illegible] tells me that there were [illegible] who he couldn't advise you of [illegible] before your journey to New York. But he promises that at [illegible] or even before you and Lillian are to meet what I have learned."

"Obviously he is a great [illegible] executive," I said cautiously as I slid into my coat before he could offer to help me. "But I really shall have enough to do, the [illegible] while without bothering my head over any underworld stuff that [illegible] already been piled on my [illegible] shoulders. If Hugh wants to extend the scepter to Lillian—"

"Stop right there!" she cried, her eyes crackling with laughter. "Oh! Yvette isn't going to come into any presences until Father gets back. Me, I don't listen to nuthin' see, unless you're right beside me, holding hands. And now, I think it's time we bussed you and said 'Au revoir!'"

Gong May Ring

"I think so, too," I said, adjusting my scarf and picking up my gloves, kerchief, handbag, and the box with the mourning costume which I had firmly resolved I would let no one carry save myself. "There's only one thing of which I must warn you. Don't be startled by the ringing of a gong. It sounds up here, from a button pressed down in the secret chamber. It's the only way Hugh can signal you that he wants anything, and you can send Jerry Tiger a-running when you hear it."

"My laigs may be old," Harry said stoutly, "but they're still functioning. I'll take over the office of bellhop, and leave Jerry for other duties."

He took me by the shoulders, bent down and "bussed" me competently, as he had promised. Then he passed me over to Lillian's tender embrace, and shook hands with the boys.

"Take good care of her, lads!" he said, and I blessed him for the insight into boy psychology which had kept him from offering to escort me to the car. The boys were so vibrant with the consciousness of their office that I would not have had their ego deflated by the intrusion of any older person, even their hero, into their prideful escort of me to the waiting armored car.

Escort Made

"We will," they chorused, and after Lillian had bidden them farewell, they ranged themselves upon either side of me, and we all went out of my room.

Katie was waiting for me at the foot of the stairs, her eyes bright with excitement, but a bit "teary 'round the lashes."

"Oh, I so hate to see you go away!" she exclaimed. "But I know you moost follow your star. Und I bet dose old Natzi spies vood be shaking in dere shoes eef dey knew you were on dere trail!"

"Thank you, Katie," I said, unable to stem the torrent in any other way. "And now, I am trusting things to you. Ask Mrs. Underwood or Madam Graham for anything you want to know."

"I no half to ask mooch," she said, with a self complacency that was not irritable because it was justified. "But, you see, I lock oop my beeg mout, und I no let eet [illegible] on matter vat Madam Graham say to me."
